Hiss Jury Hung, Dismissed; New Trial Due

4 Jurors Vote For Acquittal

Clark Seeks Early Renewal

NEW YORK—(AP)—The perjury trial of Alger Hiss ended in a hung jury last night, and the government promptly ordered a new trial.

The jury, split four to eight to four in favor of a conviction, was dismissed at 8:01 p. m. (EST) after nearly 29 hours of fruitless effort to reach an agreement.

Shortly thereafter, Attorney General Tom Clark announced in Washington:

"The Department of Justice will vigorously prosecute the Hiss case again as quickly as the docket of the court will permit."

At the earliest, that probably would not be before next autumn.

Failure of the jury to reach a verdict left still in doubt the role—if any—that Hiss had played in an alleged prewar betrayal of his country.

Jurors said that almost from the outset, they had been deadlocked eight to four for conviction of the brilliant, 44-year-old Harvard graduate whom the State department sent to Dumbarton Oaks, Yalta and the San Francisco conference where the United Nations was founded.

Federal Judge Samuel H Kaufman, wearily and with reluctance, finally admitted the hopeless split and sent the jury home.

SENT BACK TWICE

On two earlier occasions the small, thin-voiced jurist had sent the jury back to its chambers for another attempt at agreement.

The final deadlock left the lanky, handsome Hiss exactly where he was last December when a New York grand jury indicted him on two counts of perjury.

Hiss' gray-haired, stocky defense chief, Lloyd Paul Stryker, indicated he may try anew for a dismissal of the charges. The trial court refused to quash them.

His face haggard, Hiss managed a weak smile as the jury was discharged. But politely and firmly he declined comment.

"Not now," was all he said.

His slight, modestly-dressed wife, Priscilla, lost the prim little smile of encouragement that she flashed at her lanky husband for the 27 days she was by his side in court.

Her face was red and her lips tight. She seemed near tears and she said nothing.

The couple made its way through a pressing crowd outside the federal building in Foley square and was driven away into the night in a red sedan.

It was a harsh blow for Hiss if he had expected acquittal.

It left him under the cloud that arose last summer when Whittaker Chambers told the House un-American Activities committee that Hiss gave him State department secrets for a Soviet spy ring.

Mob Storms Steel Plant

TOKYO — (INS) — More than 350 unemployed Japanese stormed into an idle plant of the Japanese steel company at Hiroshima today in new disorders marking the mounting "communist summer offensive."

The rioters occupied union offices in the plant from which a mob was forcibly ejected in bloody rioting just three weeks ago.

The demonstrators today tore down signs announcing the plant would be dismantled to meet Japan's reparations obligations.

The rioting was touched off when management representatives failed to appear at the office of the prefectural governor in Hiroshima for a midnight negotiating session with communist - led union men protesting mass layoffs.

Some 150 more rioters "camped" in the governor's outer office at 8 a. m. singing the communist "Internationale."

SHIP BURNS AT SEA

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C. — (AP) — The coast guard announced today that an unidentified merchant ship was afire off the North Carolina coast. The crew has abandoned the vessel.

Demand Probe of Spy Trial

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A congressional probe was demanded today into the entire Alger Hiss trial and of the conduct of Presiding Judge Samuel H. Kaufman.

Top Capitol Hill leaders probing espionage sharply criticized the federal jurist's handling of the sensational New York perjury case which ended Friday night with a deadlocked jury.

The judge was charged with "prejudice," and attacked for refusing to permit some prosecution witnesses to testify, including the former wife of communist Gebhardt Eisler.

One demand was made that the House un-American Activities committee hear the uncalled witnesses in secret session and then release their testimony when the Hiss case is finally settled.

NIXON ASKS PROBE

Rep. Nixon (R) Calif., a member of the House committee, asserted that "I believe a full investigation should immediately be made of the fitness of Judge Kaufman to serve on the bench in view of his conduct during the trial"

Rep Brown (R) Ohio, echoed Nixon's comments and added:

"I am impressed by the fact that the jury, although unable to reach the unanimous verdict required by law, reportedly stood eight to four for conviction of Alger Hiss as a perjuror in connection with the espionage case which obviously penetrated the highest levels of our State department.

"No cost should be spared by the government in ferreting out every aspect of this proven communist spy plot which was known to have existed during the vital pre-war days, and possibly right through the war up to now."

Faces Death For Slaying

ATHENS — (AP) — The man 2 defense witness called a "walking zombie" awaited a death sentence today.

He is 21-year-old Harry Z. Dodds jr., of New Straitsville, a former inmate of Ohio State reformatory at Mansfield.

Silent and impassive, Dodds last night sat unmoved as he heard a common pleas court jury of nine men and three women report their verdict of guilty of first degree murder.

The jury did not recommend mercy. The verdict makes a death sentence mandatory. Dodds was tried for the Jan. 3 slaying of 52-year-old Miss Eleanor Gifford, an Episcopal church worker.

Miss Gifford was slain in her home — beaten to death by Dodds, the state charged — during a burglary. Dodds had pleaded innocent, and innocent by reason of insanity. He is the second defendant convicted in Miss Gifford's death.

Grover E. Rawlins, 18, also tried for first degree murder for his part in the burglary-slaying, was sentenced to a life term in Ohio penitentiary recently. A third man charged in the slaying — identified only as "Jimmy Stewart" of Columbus — still is at large.

Appeal Fails For Mindszenty

BUDAPEST, Hungary — (AP) — Hungary's appeals court today confirmed the life imprisonment sentence of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

The court approved the verdict of the people's court and refused to commute the penalty.

Three of the Cardinal's co-defendants received reduced sentences. The sentences of three others were confirmed.

The Cardinal was convicted Feb. 8 of treason, espionage and black market currency dealings. The five man peoples' court sentenced him to life imprisonment

Workers Ask Hike At O-B

Union Approves 5-Point Program

CIO union employes at the Mansfield and Barberton plants of the Ohio Brass company yesterday endorsed five-point programs supporting the $500 annual wage increase sought by the union.

The 700 Barberton workers acted yesterday and the 700 Mansfield workers met last night in Union hall to endorse the proposal. Local 758, United Electrical Workers (CIO) represents the Mansfield workers. William A. Kuzma is president of the group.

The program seeks three-week vacations, paid holidays, health and welfare protection, a pension and retirement plan and a shorter work week without a reduction in pay.

Union members instructed their officials to re-open contract negotiations to include the proposals. Kuzma said the Mansfield contract does not expire until 1950 but may be opened with a letter of notification.

Such a letter of notification will be sent company officials under yesterday's date. Under the contract an answer must be made within 30 days, Kuzma stated.

The $500 annual wage increase policy sought by the union is equivalent to an approximate 25-cent hourly wage increase. The five-point program is the local chapter's proposal instead of a flat wage increase as the points embody increases

The Mansfield and Barberton shops have a joint contract but met separately to approve the program, Kuzma said.

Donates Eyes To Aid Blind

DAYTON — (AP) — A dying woman's request that her eyes be given to an eye bank for sight restoration has been carried out

The woman — known only as "Mrs. R." died of cancer yesterday.

An hour later her eyes were en route by airplane to Sight Restoration, incorporated. in New York.

Four months ago "Mrs R" revealed her plan, but with one stipulation: her name was not to be used

She said she wanted "no glorification, even in death"

Rough Sidewalk Blamed

Baby Buggy Mishap Injures Infant

An unmarked bad spot in a Bowman street sidewalk was blamed today for an unusual accident in which an eight-week-old baby was injured.

Police said a baby buggy pushed by Mrs. Jack Knable, 136½ Harker street, struck a loose slab in the sidewalk about 10:30 p m yesterday, throwing Mrs. Knable's infant son out of the buggy onto the paving.

The child was treated by a physician for bruises about the head and shoulders and returned home. He was not believed seriously hurt

The accident occurred in front of 416 Bowman street.

Police said there was a large slab of loose stone in the sidewalk which tipped when it was stepped on. They placed a lantern at the scene of the accident, and later the city street department put up a barricade and lights.

However, E W Davis, superintendent of the city street department, said today the barricade will be removed and the property owner will be told maintenance of the sidewalk is his responsibility.

Bare Trade Agreement

LONDON — (AP) — Dollar-short Britain has secretly agreed to buy nearly 1,000,000 tons of coarse grains from Russia in the next year, official sources disclosed yesterday.

The informants added that part of a barter deal agreement was initialled in private in Moscow last week—a few days before Britain's economic planners announced a three-month standstill on dollar spending.

Talks for a one-year British-Russian trade pact have been going on for some time. The grain deal would form part of that year-long pact.

Negotiations for a longer term British-Soviet trade agreement are expected to follow Russia is to supply a big quantity of wheat over and above the coarse grains—oats, barley and corn, the informants said. They declined to say how much.

Britain and Argentina signed a five-year trade agreement in Buenos Aires on June 27 That pact was entered into despite United States objections

2 Boys Held In Slaying

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Two badly frightened boys — 14 and 11 years of age — were held today in the fatal shooting of their 22-year-old sister - in - law.

Scratched, dirty and hungry after sleeping in a field all night and hiking all day, the boys were taken into custody late yesterday afternoon near Franklin park here.

The two — Dorsel Arledge, 14, and his brother Harold, 11 had been hunted since the finding of Mrs. Alma Arledge's body in the Arledge's tenant n home near here early yesterday.

The woman had been shot four times, officers said, apparently with a high - power deer rifle stolen from the main dwelling on the farm.

After lengthy questioning last night the boys admitted firing the rifle, but their stories as to the number of times it was fired conflicted, Sheriff Ralph Paul said No charges were filed.

The rifle, and a shotgun also taken from the farm, were recovered by deputies when the boys led them to the spot where they had thrown the weapons along a railroad track.

Bullet Is Removed, Waitkus Doing Well

CHICAGO — (UP) — Baseball star Eddie Waitkus, who was shot June 14 by a lovesick typist, underwent his fourth operation today and surgeons removed a bullet from his chest because of a developing infection

Surgeons at Billings Memorial hospital said that the condition of the Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman was "good" He was conscious when the doctors' bulletin was issued shortly before 10 a m. (CDT).

His Wife's Still Beautiful

Blind 18 Years, 'Miracle' Brings Sight

HOPKINTON, Mass —(UP)— Edward R Ray of Hopkinton believed in miracles today.

For after 18 years of darkness, the 63-year-old masseur could see again—could see a bright, new world full of life and color, could see that his wife was "still beautiful"

Ray revealed that his veil of blindness unexpectedly lifted Wednesday night, but that he didn't tell the world at first because he wanted to be sure the return of his vision wasn't just a cruel freak."

Ray said he was walking into the kitchen of his home from a hall "when suddenly everything became bright" His wife, Anna, and his brother-in-law Joseph Deegan, were in the room

"My God," he shouted, "I can see. I can see"

"My wife looked at me as if I were crazy," he said He convinced them by walking into the kitchen and reading headlines from a newspaper.

Ray planned to leave today for Brant Rock where his daughter and grandchildren are vacationing.

When he was only 9 years old, a stick hit Ray's right eye and eventually cost him its sight. The other eye weakened over a period of 35 years and he finally was totally blind in 1931.

Dr. Edwin T. Olson of Worcester, Ray's optometrist, described the event as "a most astonishing thing" He said he had examined Ray frequently in the past eight years, but that there seemed "nothing to be done to help him."

Kyle Raps Flooding Of Subway

Davis Offers Sewer Plan

Flooding of the Park avenue east subway for 15 hours yesterday by a broken water main brought a charge of "inefficiency" today from City Councilman George Kyle.

"We told Davis to clean out the subway storm sewer three months ago. If he had cleaned it out then, the subway wouldn't have flooded," Kyle said.

However, Superintendent of Streets E. W. Davis who refused to clean the sewer on council order, said yesterday the reason he didn't clean it was because that would have been no answer to the problem.

The flooded subway was open to traffic at 5 p. m. yesterday, but city workers were on the job cleaning up the silt and mud for two more hours.

The broken 12-inch water main was repaired and water was routed through the lines shortly after 5 p. m., Water Department Superintendent O. C. Kalbfleisch said.

He estimated 1,000,000 gallons of water were lost from the break.

About one-half million gallons of water were trapped in the subway, he said.

The subway sewer sumps, three feet deep, were completely filled with mud washed down by the water, Davis said.

Some of the curbing along the sidewalks broke under the weight of the water, which reached a depth of six feet. Cement along the sewer grates also crumbled, Davis said.

The storm sewer at the subway is almost as level as a table top, Davis said. It just won't carry the water away fast enough even after a heavy rain, he declared.

Davis admitted there were a couple of inches of mud in the line before the flood started, but he claimed that wouldn't have made any difference.

A solution to the whole drainage problem at the subway was presented to five city councilmen at the scene of the flood yesterday by Davis.

His plan is to run a 20-inch storm sewer line from the subway to a sewer at Third street, about a block away. That would give a direct connection to Ritters run. It would be impossible to overload that connection, Davis said.

"They told me before it would be impossible to pump water up the grade from the subway to Third street," he said. "But the small pump on the fire department's pumper did that very job yesterday."

"They ran three lines into the Third street sewer without causing an overload," Davis said.

To get the water up the grade, a 90,000 gallon sump pump should be installed, Davis stated. The pump would automatically turn on when the water rises in the sump.

Included in the improvement at the subway would be the relocation of the raised sidewalks.

Councilmen Paul Bush, Thomas Wright, Charles Shultz, Fred Miller and Nelson Swihart examined the condition at the subway yesterday, Davis said.

"I think we might get some council action on this now," he added.

7 Perish In Plane Crash

BALBOA, C Z — (INS) — U S naval officials said today that two officers and five navy enlisted men were killed yesterday when a navy flying boat caught fire in mid-air and crashed into the sea 15 miles north OF Cristobal breakwater.

The plane, which was based at the Coco Solo air field, radioed that it was in trouble shortly before it crashed. Air-sea rescue equipment was immediately dispatched to the scene, but arrived after the flying boat had crashed into the water.

Identification of the seven victims was withheld pending the notification of next of kin.

2 More Days Of Heat Forecast

Seven Deaths Reported In Ohio

Mansfielders can prepare for at least two more days of heat, the weatherman said today.

An area of cool, dry air is headed this way from the Pacific northwest, and the forecasters said it probably will reach Ohio about Tuesday.

Light showers spilled on Mansfield late yesterday, but they made the heat more oppressive. The mercury moved up to 91 yesterday afternoon and remained above 72 all night.

Hot and humid with afternoon thundershowers was the forecast for today and tomorrow.

Seven deaths within 24 hours were attributed to the heat in Ohio.

Claude Butler, 58, a Bellefontaine carpenter, collapsed from heat exhaustion on a Springfield building project and died later. It was Springfield's third heat death of the year.

Walter Lyle, 52, a lineman for the Dayton Power and Light company, was stricken while installing wires in a ditch, and died.

The other heat victims were:

Mrs. Lola Williams, 74, Cincinnati; found dead of heat exhaustion in her home.

Wilbur A. Creager, 50, Cincinnati; found dead on a floor in his home.

William Brown, 75, Cincinnati; died in a hospital after suffering a heat stroke last Wednesday.

Mrs. Pearl Pfeiffer, 70, died of a heat stroke in a Cincinnati hospital.

Carl Hammer, 37, Logan; died of a heart attack brought on by heat exhaustion while working on a roofing job in Greenfield.

Cincinnati stood at the head of the list for high temperatures yesterday with 97.3 degrees Others were: Cleveland, 90, and Columbus, 91.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. — (UP) — Two convicts admitted today that as trusties they:

1. Left the state prison here frequently.
2. Held up a Montgomery Ward store last Dec. 9 of $4,145.
3. Used part of the loot to buy a convertible which they parked in the prison parking lot
4. Used the convertible for weekend jaunts to Chicago, Gary and South Bend with a local married woman whom they named as an accomplice in the holdups

Their spree ended last Dec. 31 when prison officials caught them leaving the grounds They have been in solitary confinement ever since.

Recommend Charges In Singer's Death

ATLANTA — (UP) — A coroner's jury cracked open the John Garris murder case today by ruling that the Metropolitan opera star was slain with a gun found on a South Carolina convict.

The jury recommended that Grover (Tojo) Pulley, a convicted slaver, be returned to Atlanta to face charges of killing the handsome tenor and leaving his body in a dark, rain-swept alley last April 21.

New Blockade

BERLIN — (AP) — Soviet troops at three frontier crossings from western Germany imposed a new "little blockade" today on Berlin-bound cargo trucks.

Russians Attack Patrol

Bitter Protest Being Readied

STUTTGART, Germany —(UP)—An American officer shot and killed a young Soviet soldier yesterday after an unprovoked Soviet attack on an American patrol near the zonal border, the U. S. Army announced today.

Maj. Gen. Isaac D. White, chief of the constabulary, said he would deliver "a bitter protest" to Soviet authorities.

The army account said five or six Russian soldiers twice fired on a patrol from the 15th Constabulary squadron near Rothenbach, 300 yards inside the American zone of Germany north of Coburg.

The American patrol was making a routine check of zonal border markings when the Russians first opened fire, the army said. The Americans threw themselves to the ground, crawled to safety and called their officers.

Two officers accompanied the patrol back to the scene. When the Americans re-appeared, a Soviet soldier showed himself and ordered them to halt.

RED OPENS FIRE

They did, but the soldier opened fire from only about 30 feet away. He missed. The Americans withdrew, shooting as they went. The Soviet soldier fell dead. His companions could be heard retreating.

The Americans left the body where it fell, about 200 yards inside the American zone. During the night, however, other Soviet soldiers crossed into the American zone and carried it away. The victim was believed about 18 or 19 years old.

White said the Russians "were definitely at fault."

"Our boys took cover when they were shot at from behind the first time," he said. "When they came back later with their officers, they were fired on again and were justified in firing back.

"Our soldiers are instructed to defend themselves when necessary, although they don't look for trouble. It was an unprovoked attack."

White said he had heard nothing from the Soviet authorities about the incident. In any event, he said, it would take several days for any Soviet protest to arrive through channels.

Reds Free U. S. Envoy

SHANGHAI — (AP) — The communists released U. S. Vice Consul William B. Olive today. He was arrested Wednesday in a minor traffic incident and beaten by police.

Olive was closeted immediately after his release with Consul General John Cabot. Olive was not permitted to comment upon his three days in jail because, Cabot said, it "might endanger him."

Cabot would not say whether Olive had been injured at the hands of the Red police, but the vice consul was able to leave the jail without aid. He seemed to bear no marks of violence.

First reports of the incident by the consulate Thursday said Olive, 32, of Ironton, Mo., became involved in a traffic jam as he apparently attempted to cross the line of a big parade observing the 12th anniversary of the Sino-Japanese war.

He was arrested and taken to a precinct police station, this account said. During questioning, Olive accidentally upset an ink bottle Police took this to be an act of resistance.

Olive was knocked down by police, the consulate report continued Then when he sought to defend himself, he was beaten and kicked.

Two Jailed In Brutal Murder

HOUSTON, Miss. — (UP) — Two young men were jailed without bond here today for their part in the auto jack slaying of a "road hog."

Murder charges were filed against James Moore and James (Red) Kellum, accused of beating Malcolm Wright to death because he was "hogging the road" with his horse-drawn wagon.

Eunice Gore, a soldier from Keesler Field, Miss., was freed under $1,000 as a material witness. Wright's family testified he was in the car but took no part in the beating of the 45-year-old tenant farmer.

Truman's Plan to Oust Taft Suffers Setback

Labor Bill Gave Ohioan Big Boost

No Suitable Dem Foe On Horizon

By LYLE C. WILSON

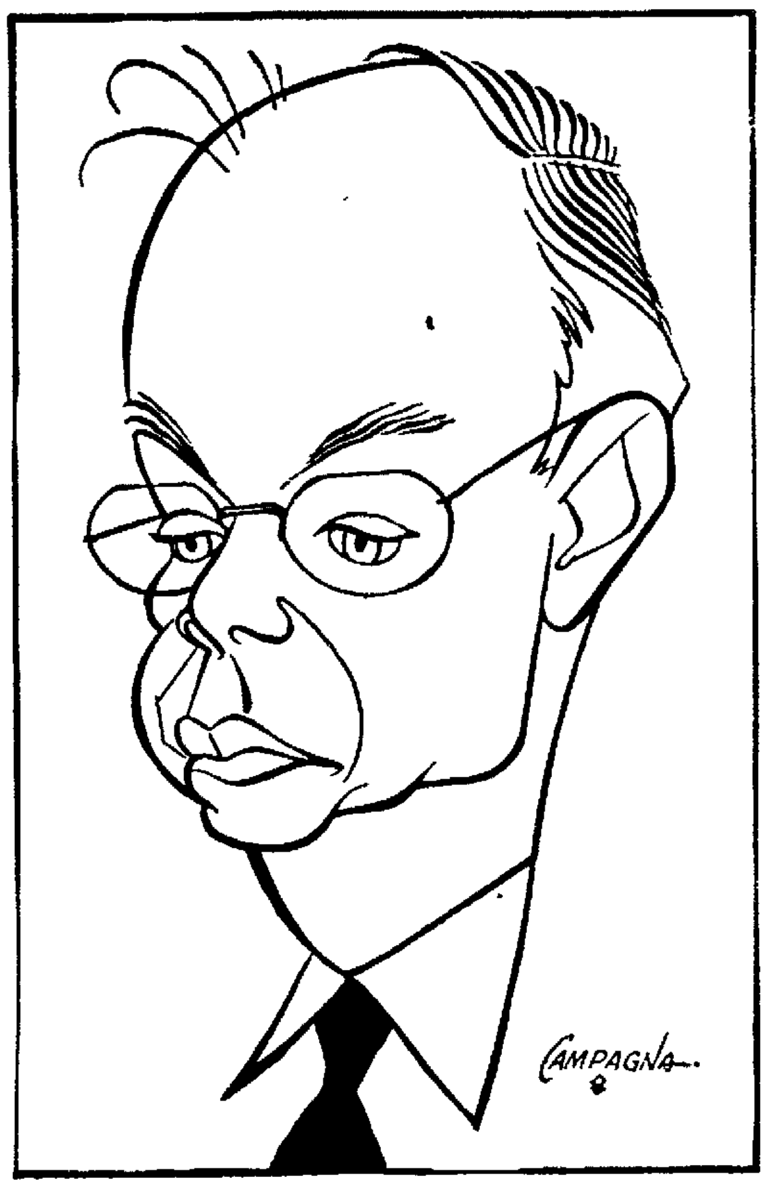
WASHINGTON — (UP) — The plans of President Truman and organized labor leaders to retire Sen. Robert A. Taft to private life have been jolted somewhat by failure of any strong Ohio Democrat so far to demand the right to oppose him in next year's election.

Taft's political prospects definitely are looking up. He won a great personal victory last week when the Senate passed a labor-management bill which he practically dictated. He has become the principal policy spokesman for the Republican party and will continue to shape its general policy right through the 1950 congressional election campaign.

If Taft is returned to the Senate by a substantial margin, only the worst kind of subsequent political breaks could prevent him being a formidable contestant for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination. If he is defeated next year he will be politically finished. The Republican party will swing to new policies and new leaders and, especially, toward major modification of the labor-management act.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio has told associates he would not run against Taft next year. That is a good break for Taft. Lausche plans to run again for governor. As governor of Ohio, he would be well placed strategically to get a spot on the 1952 Democratic presidential ticket. He is Ohio's best Democratic vote getter.

The latest word from Ohio is that Mayor Thomas A Burke of Cleveland may be the Democratic senatorial candidate.



CAMPAGNA

Burke is a candidate for reelection to the mayoralty this year. He is a close personal and political friend of Lausche and if they are teamed together at the top of the Democratic ticket the governor undoubtedly will go all out to help his pal.

A plan to oppose Taft with a farmer-labor candidate running as a Democrat apparently collapsed when no suitable candidate could not be sighted. Murray Lincoln, an Ohio Farm Bureau leader, was mentioned but not much has come of it. Joseph Ferguson, Ohio state auditor, also is a possible primary contestant for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

It is believed that President Truman wants Lausche to take on the job of exterminating Taft. The President has considerable prestige riding on the outcome of the Ohio senatorial election. But his advisers, including executige vice chairman William M. Boyle jr, of the Democratic National committee are convinced that Lausche cannot be persuaded.

The Ohio ballot itself is becoming a factor in the 1950 contest. The ballot form now in use makes it easy to vote a straight ticket. A movement now underway would substitute the so-called Massachusetts ballot form which discourages straight ticket voting.

Adoption of the Massachusetts ballot form is not unlikely. That would help Taft. The backbone of Democratic strength is in the Cleveland area where as many as 200,000 Democrats vote the party ticket straight.

Takt is not out of the political woods but his chances are steadily improving. Denounced as he is by leaders of organized labor, Taft is widely regarded as the ablest man in Congress. That opinion is not altogether restricted to persons who agree with him.

Start Drive To Clean Up Lake's Waters

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Three independent organizations here have announced they will start separate drives to help clean up the sewage pollution in the Cuyahoga river and Lake Erie.

Clifford Hood, chairman of the chamber of commerce's rivers and harbors committee, said that he would call together 35 Cuyahoga valley industry experts to determine the best method of disposing of trades waste.

The president of the Western Reserve chapter of the Friends of the Land, George Usher, announced that he would call a meeting of northern Ohio conservationists to fight for a clean-up of Lake Erie's south shore.

Officials in every community within the Cuyahoga watershed are scheduled to meet in the near future, according to John Byrne, vice president of the Ohio Forestry association. Byrne said that he hoped an inter-county clean-up of the various tributaries "will make a big dent in the Cuyahoga river's pollution."

However, O. A. Reynolds, vice-president of the chamber of commerce says that these committees should take the question of finance into consideration when finding ways to eliminate pollution of the lake.

Auxiliary Ruling Hits 'Governor'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — (INS) — Mrs. Gwendolyn Mac Dowell, national secretary of the American Legion auxiliary, held today that Miss Joan Rankin, of Cincinnati will not be admitted to the Girls' Nation in Washington if she is sponsored by the American Veterans committee.

Mrs. Mac Dowell said Miss Rankin, a Negress, was chosen governor at the recent Ohio Girls' state, but that the Ohio department of the auxiliary had refrained from choosing a representative to the national meeting as other states did.

Students Barred From 'Griping'

WISE, Va. — (UP) — Students at the newly-chartered Southwest Virginia College and Commercial School here will be expected to keep their grousing to themselves.

The charter for the school provides that "griping shall not be tolerated."

The ban on student complaints the charter explains, is not aimed at imposing bondage upon the student boyd. The rule is intended "for expediency and to safeguard the college."

Chiang To Seek Pacific Pact

MANILA — (INS) — The Manila Chronicle reported that Generalissimo Chiang Kai - Shek is arriving in the Philippines this afternoon to confer with President Elpidio Quirino regarding a possible Pacific pact.

There was no immediate confirmation of the report from official sources. Chiang has been on Formosa island off the China coast in recent weeks.

Lauds Wagner For Anti-Lynching Bill

No public servant of our time deserves unstinted gratitude more than Senator Robert F. Wagner. It is a very distinct loss to America that his health has failed largely because of the long years of devoted, unselfish and hard work he has done for us all.

Even so rugged a constitution as his could not forever carry the heavy burden he has shouldered for so many years

It has been my privilege to be closely associated with Senator Wagner for a period of more than 20 years. No senator in our time has demonstrated greater courage and conscientiousness than he. I would like to tell of two examples of these traits. Along with another great and courageous senator, the late Edward P. Costigan of Colorado, Senator Wagner fought without compromise against the blight of lynching.

In 1938 a tightly knit band of southern senators filibustered for seven weeks, at a cost of more than half a million dollars, to prevent a vote on the Wagner-Costigan anti-lynching bill.

It was in that filibuster there became visible for the first time the coalition between the conservative wing of the Republican party and the southern filibusters. The attacks upon Senators Wagner and Costigan were so vitriolic and vicious as to be almost incredible.

One day Senator Wagner, who had sat stoically for hours listening to an abusive attack on the legislation he was proposing, left the floor of the Senate for a few minutes to get a bite to eat. The swinging doors leading into the Senate anteroom were still oscillating because of Senator Wagner's having passed through them, when Senator Tom Connally of Texas jumped to his feet brandishing a book with a black cover and proclaimed:

"I regret that the senator from New York is not here to have his attention called to this particular section of the measure. The Senator from New York seems to be interested only in getting a vote and takes no particular interest in the debate, or in answering the attacks on the measure by its opponents."

Senators Lewis of Illinois and Van Nuys of Indiana both patiently rose and explained that Senator Wagner had eaten nothing that day. Connally retorted sardonically:

"I think it would be much more fortunate if the senator from Indiana would take over entirely the defense of the bill than allow it to remain in charge of the absent senator from New York, who is downstairs feeding the physical body, while the real sponsor of the bill sits in the gallery and directs the efforts of the senator from New York." Here he waved the black-covered book in the air.

His fellow-southerners laughed at his mordant allegation that Senator Wagner was taking orders from a Negro in the gallery — in this case myself.

The filibusters won their unholy battle when the anti-lynching bill was displaced from the Senate calendar by an appropriations bill for relief of the unemployed Virtually every time I have talked with Senator Wagner in the ensuing eleven years, he has speculated unhappily as to whether or not he had done the right thing in yielding.

"If we had only stuck to our guns," he told me the last time we discussed the matter. "we might have beaten the filibuster and thus saved the lives of those who have been lynched since 1938."

Professor 'Whips' Class With Pistol

COLUMBIA, Mo. — (UP) — Strange things seem to happen on university campuses.

The water gun made its appearance at the University of Missouri.

There was even a battle royal in one classroom in the engineering school. The professor ordered his students to "check in" their guns.

Only three complied. The professor, Ralph L. Scorah, picked up his papers and left for a few minutes. Then he returned wearing a raincoat and armed with three loaded water pistols.

He stood off the class until all guns were empty.

Navy Bares 'Sub' Plans

Undersea Warfare Given Priority

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The navy is giving "anti-submarine warfare" high priority because Russia has a fleet of 250 to 300 of the most modern undersea craft.

A secret navy report to this effect became public yesterday through release of testimony before a Senate appropriations committee.

Admiral Louis E Denfeld. chief of naval operations, told senators:

"We are paying a great deal of attention in the navy to anti - submarine warfare. We figure it is one of our major missions and one of our most important.

Senator McCarran (D - Nev), without mentioning Russia by name, asked about published reports that "a certain nation has much advanced submarines and that it is a matter in which we are somewhat behind."

Denfeld disputed this, saying the United States navy and other armed forces "are ahead of other countries in the world. However, we have not yet obtained the complete answer to this new type of submarine."

The testimony indicated that navy officers and senators were referring to the long-range, modern submarines developed by the Germans at the end of the last war. Equipped with a special apparatus for obtaining air while submerged and other devices, it was able to remain under water for long periods to avoid detection.

Youth Killed, Question Pal

BOULDER, Colo. — (INS) — Boulder police today questioned the roommate of a Colorado university student found shot to death in their apartment but tentatively labeled the shooting a suicide.

Authorities identified the dead youth as Don Dein.

Dein was found last night sitting upright on a divan — a bullet hole in his right temple.

George M. Jacobs, who shared the basement apartment with Dein was held for questioning. Police found six guns, a plentiful supply of ammunition, several cartons of cigarettes and several cameras in the apartment. Authorities believe the articles were taken in recent Boulder robberies.

Offers Plan For Saving the World

THERE'S FREEDOM FOR THE BRAVE, by Paul McGuire, is one of the new books for adults which will be available at the Mansfield Public library Monday.

This non-fiction selection is an appeal to the individual conscience, a plan of action to save the world. The author recognizes a moral as well as a political crisis, but contends western civilization, despite all its shortcomings, should take the lead in world organization because it defends the dignity and worth of the individual.

The cornerstone of McGuire's plan is interdependence economically of the whole globe, humanitarian interests, and concepts of moral order.

THE SPELL OF THE PACIFIC, edited by Carl Stroven and A. Grove Day, is an anthology of the literature of the romantic Pacific, the ocean of Magellan, Cook and Captain Bligh. Many writers have found inspiration in the Pacific itself or in the islands that dot it. There are tales of early voyages and exploration, of settlement and scientific studies, of shipwreck and conflict, poems and stories. The best of these, along with a generous sampling of native chants and folklore, are brought together here in one volume.

IF YOU LIVED HERE, by Edward Harris Heth, is the warm, nostalgic story of two days in the life of Miss Lizzie Temple, teacher in the town of Temple. When she had finished 50 years of teaching, the whole town turned out to do her honor. As people and events of the past came surging back to mingle with those of the present, Miss Lizzie sometimes wondered how worthwhile her work had been, but, in the friendly company of those who were there to celebrate her day, she decided that there might be victories greater than they seemed now.

THE MAN WHO INVENTED SIN, by Sean O'Faolain, is a collection of O'Faolain's stories chosen by him as his best. The stories are varied in theme and style, but all beautifully written — the Irish story at its best.

Other Fiction:

LOST BUCHAROO, by Lomax; DROP DEAD, by Bagby; BARREN HARVEST by Nelson.

SWEEPER OF THE SKY, by Helen Wright, tells for the first time the interesting life of a remarkable person — America's first woman astronomer, Maria Mitchell, who lived from 1818 to 1889. As a child in Nantucket, where the whalers came to port after being guided safely over the seas by the stars, it was natural for Maria to become interested in the heavens.

She "swept the sky" with a telescope from the walk atop her home. There, in 1847, she discovered a comet to which her name was given. But her life was not limited to astronomy, nor to Nantucket, for she also made significant contributions to the cause of education, especially for women.

FORTY-FIVE IN THE FAMILY, by Eva Burmeister, presents the author's experience as superintendent of a children's home — the Lakeside Children's Center, of Milwaukee.

About 20 years ago, they started, at Lakeside, to develop more modern methods of running the institution. Since there were no blue-prints for a new way, they had to work out their own answers to their problems. In this book, the author passes on the results of their experiences in making the Center a home for the children.

Other Non-Fiction:

MEETING HOUSE AND COUNTING HOUSE, by Tolles.

Remove Needle From Baby's Heart In Rare Operation

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — A rare operation was credited today with saving the life of a five - month - old San Diego boy who a few days ago faced death with part of a needle in his heart.

Doctors at the Los Angeles Children's hospital where the operation was performed said the infant, Richard Morse is entirely out of danger now and almost fully recovered.

Richard's parents said they did not know how the needle got into the boy's heart Mr and Mrs. Billie D. Morse said the baby developed a cold about two months ago.

At the same time, his mother said, a small bruise was noticed just below the child's chest.

Richard's breathing became impaired a short time later, and x-rays showed a five-eights inch piece of needle in his heart.

He was taken to the Los Angeles hospital where physicians said the child had a one-in-three chance of surviving an operation.

The hour and 40 minute surgery was performed by a doctor who specializes in treating "blue babies" Hospital spokesmen said the first step of the operation was a five-inch incision in the infants back.

The unidentified surgeon found the needle-puncture had caused bleeding in the sac covering the heart Nearly half a pint of blood was drawn from the sac before the operation continued

Forceps then were passed through the baby's ribs and the needle was drawn out after careful probing.

Hospital officials said the boy will be sent home during the weekend.

Testimony Proves Dull

Defendants Sleepy In Vote Fraud Case

LEXINGTON, Ky — (UP) — An FBI handwriting expert, W. J. Blackburn, plowed through a mass of testimony here yesterday designed to show that Lexington lawyer A. E. Funk jr., forged the names of precinct workers on ballots in the Bourbon county elections last November.

The testimony, important but repetitious, apparently proved uninteresting even to the two defendants, Funk and his law partner, Edward F. Prichard jr. Both sat slumped in their chairs, apparently having a hard time keeping awake in the hot and stuffy federal court room.

Blackburn was taking each of the 254 allegedly fraudulent ballots from 11 precincts and comparing the signatures with the writing in a law college notebook which the prosecution contends was written by Funk when he was a law student.

The FBI expert by noon had gone through the ballots from five of the 11 precincts. He said that so far seven of the total did not appear to him to have been written by Funk.

Club To Install Officers Monday

Atty. William A. Calhoun will be installed as president of the Mansfield Exchange club at a luncheon Monday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Calhoun will succeed Robert A. LeFevre.

Cartoonist Succumbs

NEW YORK — (INS) — H H. (Hal) Knerr, cartoonist and creator of the world-famed comic strip the "Katzenjammer Kids," was found dead yesterday in his mid-town New York hotel room.

The King Features syndicate artist, a bachelor, was 67. The cause of his death was not immediately determined.

Knerr conceived the Katzen, jammer Kids strip, which portrays the mischievous doings of irrepressible Hans and Fritz, when he joined the New York ournal as a cartoonist in 1916.

His first job was with the Philadelphia Inquirer, which he joined as a cartoonist at the age of 18.

While on the Inquirer, Knerr drew the "Fineheimer Twins," which he later developed into the Katzenjammer Kids on the Journal.

Knerr is survived by a brother, Horace, a Philadelphia heating plant engineer, and a sister, Mildred of Carmel, Calif.

The cartoonist, born Sept. 4, 1882 at Bryn Mawr, Pa, was the son of Dr. Calvin B. nerr, a leading Philadelphia physician, and Melitta Hering.

Word comes that the Russians have developed a liking for American style corn flakes—and thus does civilization gradually spread.

Watch Them, Mr. Secretary

WHILE JOHN SNYDER, U. S. secretary of the treasury, was conferring yesterday with Britain's economic czar, Sir Stafford Cripps, official London sources announced that England has agreed to buy 1,000,000 tons of coarse grains from Russia—plus a huge quantity of wheat.

Secretary Snyder's purpose in London is to help bolster sagging British economy. He went over to offer his help in spite of the fact that the British slapped the U. S. in the teeth June 27 by entering into a five-year trade agreement with Argentina despite U. S. objections.

The British, after letting their actions in the Argentine deal tell the U. S. to mind its own economic business, are now urging that their people buy less from us. On the other hand they want us to buy a great deal of tin, rubber, and other items which their dominions supply.

They want us to buy it even if we can't use it. "Stockpile it," they say. "It will help us get more dollars to buy from others."

In all this it must be remembered that American dollars—gift dollars mostly—have kept the British economy going since the war. And, although Sir Stafford might contend that we bolstered British economy mainly to keep our own from being dragged down with theirs, yet the British must admit that if we were really callous about it we could have withstood the effects of their collapse much better during our postwar boom than from now on.

Indeed, it is hard to escape the assumption that the British are not only seeking to save themselves for the moment. They are also seeking to build up long-range world trade agreements which will be advantageous to them while we foot the bill.

It should be plain enough that we want to help England. But it should be equally plain that when we have a huge grain surplus in this country, we would be merely stupid to support an economic program which lets our grain rot while our dollars buy wheat from Russia for the British.

Bolstering Russia's economy via Britain is a horse of a different color.

The war for world trade is on. Britain is taking the lead in grabbing for it. It might be well for this country to begin looking for long-range markets of our own—because it's a safe bet nobody's going to set up a Marshall plan for the U. S. if our economy should start to sag.

A Too-Early Farewell

IN THE DEATH of Bryan D. Styert, at the early age of 52, Mansfield has lost a familiar and amiable figure. Particularly well-known in veterans circles, "Sodie" Styert had served his community and his country in the armed forces in World War I and in the often trying task as a member of Selective Service Board No. 2 in the last war.

Especially will Mr. Styert be missed around the American Legion home on Park avenue west, where he had served for two years as business manager, with a record of 30 years membership in McVey post.

The staff of The News-Journal has kindly memories of Mr. Styert. He was always glad to pass along "tips" on information he thought would be of general interest. Hence, we join personally with his thousands of other friends in saying a too-early farewell.

Colleges That Subsidize Athletes

DO COLLEGES really want to stop the recruiting of star athletes? They say they do, and tend, whenever some scandal develops involving the subsidization of a football player, to blame over-enthusiastic graduates. Outsiders have often wondered just how much justification that defense had.

Now the Pacific Coast Conference has found what seems like a highly effective method of forcing obedience to eligibility rules. It fines the offending colleges, and not in small amounts either. The University of Washington, charged with violations of the recruiting code, was fined $5,500. Every other member was found guilty of some breach of the rules, and the total fines assessed came to $21,105.

This may have the effect of keeping the alumni in order, if they indeed are to blame. When his college, which has already been pleading for more money, has to pay a $5,000 fine for his over-ambitious efforts to land a good football player, the most enthusiastic sports devotee may be convinced that he is hurting his alma mater.

One observer comments that while hard work may not have killed anybody it has frightened a lot of people something awful.

Claude Callan advises: "It is best for daughter to have a quiet wedding. Then dad may be able to get it paid for before daughter wants a divorce."

Frankly Speaking

Slum Clearance On Voluntary Basis

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Jones lives in a slum. What's the government's new program—slum-clearance and public housing—going to mean to him?

Maybe nothing. Maybe a lot. It depends on whether his own city wants to take part in the program. No city has to.

The government itself doesn't go in and tear down a slum or even start a slum-clearance going. It stands on the sidelines like a combination banker and rich uncle.

It's ready to help with money—in gifts and loans—any city which wants to tear down a slum and set up low-rent public housing for low-income people.

The program goes like this:

A city has a bad slum. It wants to get rid of it. It gets permission from its state legislature to do so and it gets a small loan from the government to survey the whole problem.

This includes public hearings where people with an interest in seeing the slum stay or go can speak their piece. Suppose, then, the city decides to go ahead and tear down the slum.

This is where money, maybe big money, comes in.

Buying up the slum property and tearing down the rotten buildings may take a lot of money, more than the city can spare, even though the city gets some of it back later by selling the leveled-off land.

The government steps in. It's willing to stand two-thirds of any loss on the deal. The city must agree to bear the other one-third of any loss.

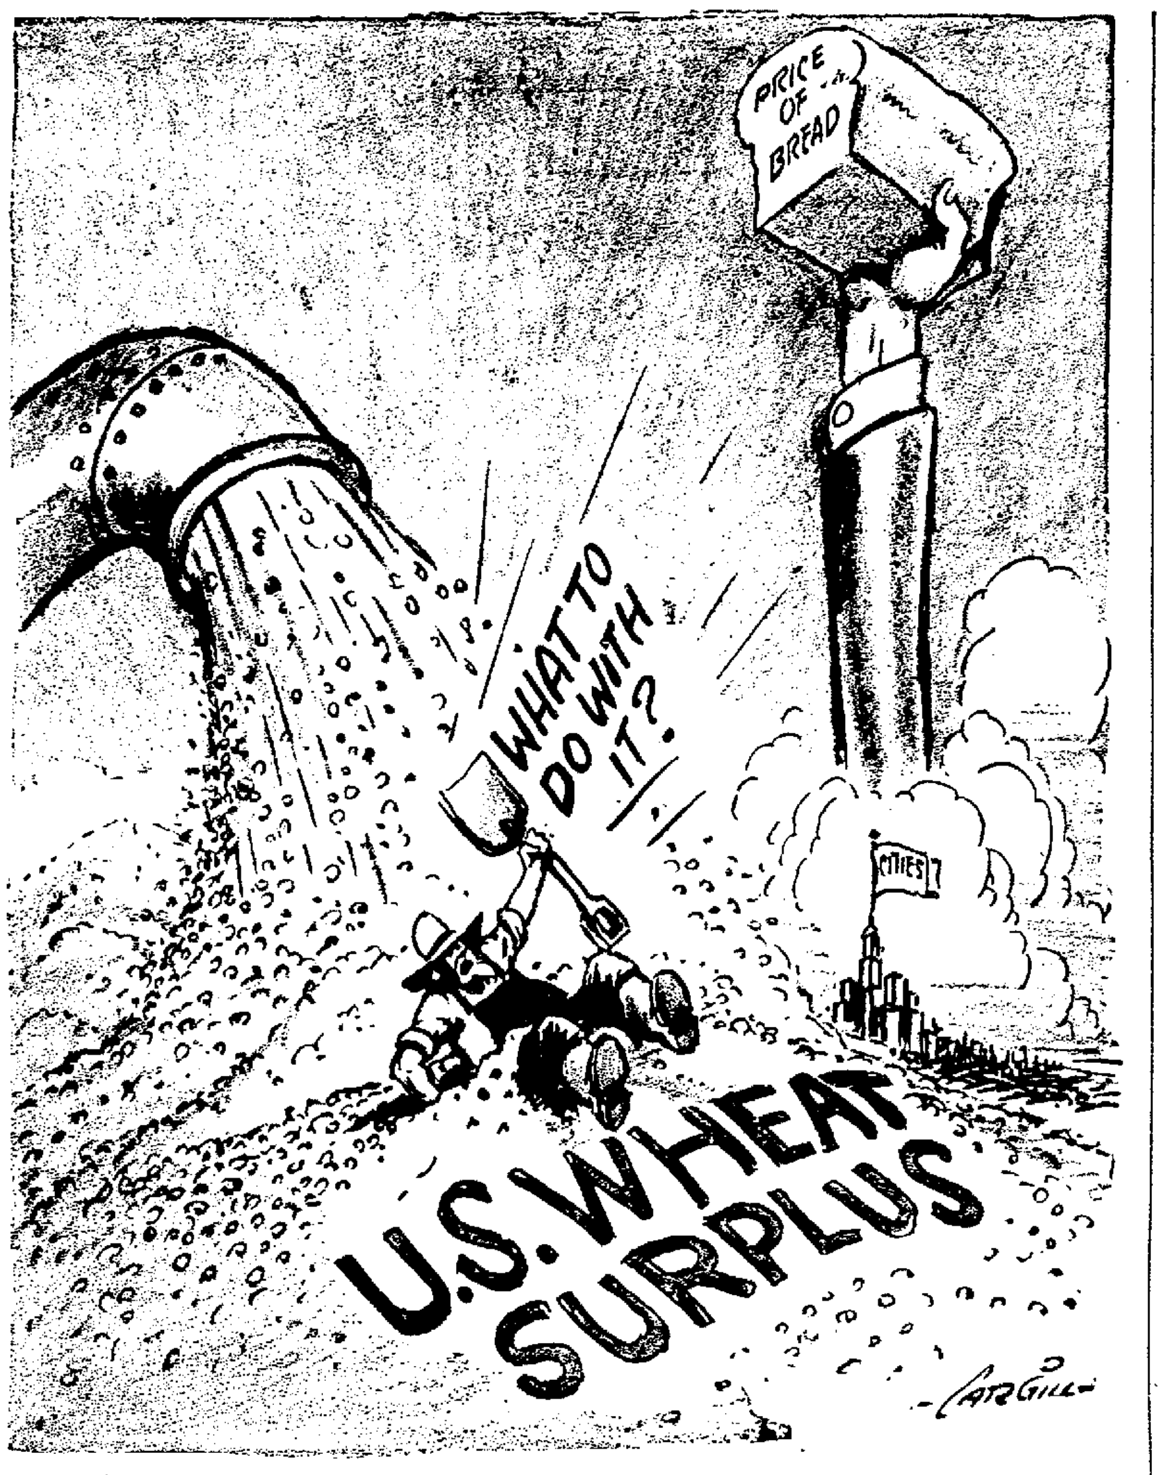
The government is willing to lose up to $500,000,000 on slum clearance to get these blights out of the way and their tenants moved into better, low-rent homes.

So, for slum-clearance, in the next five years the government is prepared to hand out $1,500,000,000 to the cities in loans and grants, this way:

1. LOANS—$1,000,000,000. This money all has to be paid back by the cities at 2½ to 3 per cent interest. But they get 40 years to do it.

2. GRANTS—$500,000,000. These grants are really gifts which the cities never have to pay back. Since the loans have to be paid back, but the grants don't, the most the government figures to lose on all slum-clearance is $500,000,000 in grants.

But—and this is important for Jones and his neighbors in the slums—the government will not help any city in any way in getting rid of a slum unless the slum-dwellers forced to move can be placed temporarily, or relocated, in housing at least not worse than they left and at rent within their means.



Follies of 1949.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

In Red Three Times Over Estimate

AS MIGHT HAVE been expected, the federal government at the end of the 1949 fiscal year found itself considerably in the red. The deficit was $1,811,000,000. The President in his January budget message estimated that the deficit would be about $600,000,000. So it was more than three times the estimate.

Politicians on both sides rush to battle with conflicting charges of blame. Democrats say that this deficit is the result of the tax cut put through by the Republican 80th Congress. Republicans say that President Truman frightened investors by asking for more taxes and that jobs and income therefore fell off in the first half of this year. Both sides whip out pencils and make notes for political speeches to be made in the 1950 campaign.

John Q. Citizen, I imagine, is not much impressed by these calculations of political advantage. He is glad his taxes were reduced, but he is not glad about a deficit. For he knows that when the federal government borrows money to meet a deficit, it hurts the savings of John Q. Citizen. It hurts his savings because federal deficit spending is inflationary and clips a bit of value off every dollar he has saved.

Moreover, John Q. Citizen is smarter than the politicians think he is. For when he votes in 1950 he isn't going to be influenced by what Democratic or Republican politicians tell him about what happened in early 1949. He is going to have much more urgent concerns and much greater worries than past history.

* * *

Spare The Arguments

So politicians should spare us any arguments and get down to something really important. That is, what can be done to prevent a deficit, a year from now, far greater than this one? For unless something is done, the deficit next year will be somewhat more than the $6,000,000,000 that Senator Byrd is predicting and several times greater than the $873,000,000 deficit prediction made by President Truman for 1950.

The seriousness of this situation can be grasped if we look at tax receipts. Those receipts were down nearly $4,000,000,000—the lowest in five years. They will be considerably—very considerably—lower next year if, as seems probable, general business drops some more.

If bad news of that sort confronts us next year, the election of 1950 will be decided upon more immediate issues than the 1949 deficit.

So ruling politics out, what can be done to prevent a real upset next year? The answer is to cut expenditures here and now. Both parties ought to begin to grasp a simple fact. No tax scale and no artificial stimulation of business by government spending can get tax receipts up over $40,000,000,000. This country as it is now constituted cannot afford a budget of expenditures greater than that amount, at least in the foreseeable future.

As this column has pointed out repeatedly, a decline in the national income always brings a relatively greater decline in tax receipts. And since we shall in all probability have such a decline in income, tax receipts will decline at a more rapid rate in the coming year.

This situation calls for economy brought about by real cooperation between the President and Congress and between Democrats and Republicans. We simply cannot afford a kind of politics which accepts growing deficits because they are thought to make good political issues.

Washington Calling

Mrs. Alling Cleared

By MARQUIS CHILDS

space, recently, the details of the loyalty case against Mrs. Annie V. Alling were told. On the most flimsy hearsay reports, most of it on the level of guilt by association, Mrs. Alling had been found disloyal by a regional loyalty board and removed from her position in the "blind pool" of the Veterans administration where she did routine typing having nothing to do with secrecy.

It is good to be able to report that the top loyalty board has now cleared Mrs. Alling and ordered that she be restored to her position. Presumably she will be compensated for the eight weeks that she was suspended on a finding of the fourth regional loyalty board that she was disloyal.

While it is good news that what was so obviously an injustice has now been corrected, the fact remains that there should never have been an "Alling case." The cost in time and money of government officials, to say nothing of the misery endured by the principal in the case, must be put down as a total loss to democratic government.

If Mrs. Alling had been every thing that was alleged and a great deal more — the front and center of a communist "apparatus" — she could have done the government not the least harm. Nearly blind from a series of eye operations, she transcribed dictaphone records of letters relating to veterans' insurance.

As the record of her case showed, Mrs. Alling is a woman of independent and inquiring mind. Her religious background gave her an idealism that more conventionally minded people might have considered fuzzy and sentimental.

Even before the top loyalty board, she maintained her independence of thought, refusing merely to recant a political heresy with the proper words and phrases. That may have been misguided in view of the fact that her livelihood and her reputation were at stake. But it seems to me to be a decidedly American trait and I, for one, am glad that it still survives.

Letters have come to me indicating that the Alling case is not an isolated instance. They recite similar examples in which trivialities, gossip and malicious tale-bearing have been magnified out of all proportion and used to destroy men and women who protest their loyalty and their innocence of any wrongdoing.

The time has come, in my opinion, quickly to wind up the loyalty program except as it covers employes in secret or restricted work. This last would be a small fraction of the whole. At the same time it should be possible for the civil service commission to order a purge of the files of individual employes, removing so-called loyalty data that is obviously irrelevant and even downright ridiculous.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Senate Debates Atlantic Pact

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE SENATE sweltered through debate last week on the North Atlantic Pact.

The climactic debate went on in the historic old Supreme Court room which at one time housed the Senate, then much smaller in number. The shift was made necessary by a five million dollar renovation to the roofs of both House and Senate chambers which sagged dangerously in 1940 and were propped up with steel scaffolding. It will be completed by next January 1 in time for the next regular session of Congress.

The principal speakers were Sen. Tom Connally (D - Tex.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R - Mich.), Republican policy chief on the bipartisan foreign policy.

Two Questions

Senatorial thinking was in sympathy with the spirit of the pact but debate centered on two questions. They were whether Congress would be deprived of its constitutional power to declare war and whether a vote for the treaty would commit a member to vote for the Corollary arms aid program for pact members.

The pact must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Senate alone, but both houses must approve the arms-aid bill by a majority vote.

Debate opened after the Fourth of July recess. Administration leaders decided, at the last moment, to withhold submission of the military aid program. This program, which totals $1,450,000,000 is certain to meet opposition from economy-minded Congressmen. Capital strategists convinced the President it would be unwise to stir up a new controversy before the pact, itself, was ratified.

Hope for Passage

European governments still are being told that the Administration hopes for Congressional approval of arms aid before adjournment. The program proposes $1,130,000,000 for military assistance to European members of the Atlantic treaty.

The rest would go for help to such countries as Greece and Turkey which are not in the pact area but have been getting American help against Russian pressure.

in order to smash Tito's rule over the nation which has become a living symbol of defiance of Moscow within Communist ranks.

Substantial economic help for Tito from the west apparently is at hand. Britain and Yugoslavia are near the end of negotiations for a five-year trade agreement. It would provide badly needed manufactured goods for Yugoslavia and raw materials for Britain.

Aid from West

Washington has quietly but actively gone out of its way to strengthen Tito's economic weak points by encouraging western European nations to find ways of doing business with Yugoslavia. At present the U. S. is prepared to support as "good business" Yugoslavia's pending application for a 50 million dollar industrial development loan from the World Bank.

Undoubtedly, in the future, Yugoslavia will broach the matter of arms aid from the west. Marshal Tito is in a position where he has to have arms as well as trade with the west in order to survive.

The American policy, officials say privately, is one of pure power politics. Washington is concerned with keeping Tito alive as a force which upsets Russia's position of control in eastern Europe and weakens the Soviet bloc in a military as well as a political sense.

A Business Deal

At the same time, State Department policy makers are reputed to have no love for Tito and no thought that he will develop into a friend.

For Marshal Tito the situation is like this. His country has reached the point where it must have trade with the west because it no longer has any worthwhile trade with the other Russian satellites.

But Tito's regime is built on Communist ideologies and propaganda. While he berates the Cominform as a new enemy and while he looks to the west for the goods he needs, he also continues to berate western capitalism and imperialism and sing the standard Communist line.

Thorn in Stalin's Side

Washington is not disposed to view Tito as a convert to western ideals. For Washington it appears to be enough that he is anti-Cominform and therefore, in his struggle for existence, anti-Kremlin.

The Belgrade government gradually has cut down on aid sent to Communist guerrillas in Greece. This has been one of the primary reasons for success of Greek government troops against the rebels.

Greek Communists now get most of their outside help from Bulgaria and Albania. Albania is widely regarded by western observers as the base of a concentration of Russian - directed military power against Yugoslavia. The Yugoslav - Albanian border is reported to be the scene of frequent incidents.

In Short

Discovered: By Harvard astronomers, a new comet of the 13th magnitude brightness.

Signed: By Russia, Czechoslovakia, Finland and Poland, interlocking one - year trade agreements for the exchange of $56,400,000 in goods.

Killed: In the three-day Fourth of July weekend, an all time high of 663, of which 289 were traffic, 240 drownings and 134 from miscellaneous causes.

At Home

Filed Maneuvers

Survey crews deployed through Nevada's summer grazing lands last week with an army of grasshoppers. Their goal was not to head off the pests; that was impossible. They were out to chart the grasshopper egg beds as the eggs were laid.

Egg-laying is the last act in the grasshopper's year-long cycle before death. The egg areas charted will be strewn with poison next spring before the hatch. The tiny young will find only poisoned vegetation upon which to feed.

The grasshopper army last week covered a front about 70 miles long and 40 miles deep, extending in a few places into southern Oregon and into Lassen County, Calif.

The grasshoppers move from two to six miles a day, denuding the land of everything green.

Record Prospect

Corn is off to an excellent start, according to a survey of the major corn belt, extending from Ohio westward to Nebraska.

Traditionally, corn should be knee high by the Fourth of July if it is to escape the first killing autumn frost. This year's crop was closer to shoulder height last weekend in most sections.

Grain experts say this year's corn harvest may top last year's tremendous 3,650,548,000 bushels. That yield had much to do with cracking the postwar agricultural price inflation.

'Poor Ones Cost More'

The American ideal of a competent teacher in every classroom is far from realization, 5,000 delegates of the National Education Association were told last week in Boston.

At present there is a teacher with only an emergency teaching certificate in one out of every 10 classrooms across the country.

The authority is Mabel Studebaker of Erie, Pa., NEA president. What many citizens do not realize yet, she declared, is that "poor schools cost more than good schools."

Police Foiled

In Kansas City, police lost a speed-trap hideout behind parkway shrubbery when they popped out to give a park employe a ticket. He told them if they didn't stop hiding behind it he was going to have the shrubbery cut down. Last week it was uprooted. The Park Department gave this explanation: a traffic hazard.

Abroad

Man On a Tight Rope

The Soviet Union through the Cominform has clamped down a blockade on military supplies for Yugoslavia. The disclosure reveals how deep is the cleavage between Marshal Tito and the Kremlin. The rift began a year ago and it has widened steadily.

Some American observers feel that Russia in the last analysis may be willing to risk an international war in the Balkans

Fair Thoughts and Faces

By ELSIE ROBINSON

SALLY OSBORN has read an article which said that "beautiful thoughts will make a beautiful face." So Sally, who is plain, wants to know if I agree. And her husband, Sam, though he doesn't say so, is likewise interested. Sam secretly longs for broader shoulders and a wave in his hair.

Well, Sally and Sam, I don't know much about wishful thinking and its effect on the shape of one's nose, or the width of a man's shoulders, or a lady's complexion, or a guy's straight hair. But I do know that beautiful thoughts have a power far greater than any physical change.

They may not revamp your countenance but their influence registers a spiritual beauty which is infinitely more effective than any features of the flesh.

One beautiful, tender, generou understanding thought is worth a ton of plastic surgery or cosmetic glamor.

It is not only worth more to you but it registers far more quickly with your friends.

You may have the plainest face but if it registers kindness you are glorified. You may have the most charming face but if it expresses meanness the world will shun you.

And, after all, that's as it should be. For it isn't the flesh that counts most—it's the spirit.

When I was a youngster in California — and California itself was still young—we kids used to listen and watch for the train every afternoon about 4:30 and as it swept past we'd wave at the engineer.

Engineers and trains were still rare phenomena in that far West. But friendliness was untainted by the reserve which was to come later in the suspicious machine age. So we waved a cordial greeting to any stranger as warmly as to our families and friends, and it must have comforted many a lonely heart.

Folks lived far apart in that sparsely settled country and anyone was a neighbor who came within hailing distance.

I think often of those days as I pass avid eyed strangers who greet me with a cold suspicious glance and hustle or stride on their way.

What a pity that we who are so lonely, especially in the great, grim cities, can't wave as we did back in the nineties!

But perhaps you don't believe in "getting too intimate." Then, partner, that's just your bad luck Folks who stand outside human race—folks who hoard themselves to cautiously—decay as surely as flesh without food or plants without air.

Friendly thoughts make friendly faces.

Child's Eyes Change

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A CHILD'S EYES are precious and should be carefully guarded. In order to do an intelligent job in this regard, it is important for parents to realize that the eyes go through different stages of growth just as the rest of the body does. If defects occur, they usually show up at one of these crucial stages, and that is when something should be done without delay.

It is perfectly normal for the child to be farsighted at birth because the eyeball is short. As the eyes grow, this farsightedness disappears, and by the time the child is five or six years of age, vision should be normal. If it is not, the child should be fitted with glasses to avoid the eyestrain involved in attempts to focus the eyes.

This type of eyestrain may be responsible for some discomfort and under certain conditions may lead to crosseye during the second or third year of life.

The farsighted child may not have any trouble until he starts school; then, after reading or writing, symptoms of eyestrain develop. During illness the symptoms also may be more pronounced.

* * *

Eyeball Too Long.

Nearsightedness is due to the fact that the eyeball is too long. In nearsighted children, images are always blurred, and the condition cannot be corrected by the focusing structures of the eye.

Nearsightedness is a common disorder. There is evidence that it may run in families. There are some who think that perhaps excessive use of the eyes in childhood may play a part in producing this disorder. Lack of exercise and general poor health are also thought to be contributing causes. Of course, the treatment consists in fitting the child with proper glasses and seeing to it that he gets enough outdoor exercise and sunshine, and that he does not use the eyes for too much close work.

Astigmatism is another common type of eye distrubance. In this condition, the front part of the eyeball is not properly shaped, which causes blurring of the vision. Astigmatism also can be corrected with proper glasses so that images are clearly seen. If not corrected, it will lead to eyestrain.

It is evident that when these eye defects are discovered and early and proper treatment is carried out, they may be kept from progressing. If they are neglected, it is likely that the condition will become constantly worse. It is important for every child to have an examination of the eyes, particularly at the time he enters school. Even a child as young as one and one-half years of age may wear glasses if he needs them.

Flays Justice Murphy For Stand In First Trial of Harry Bridges

NEW YORK—Harry Bridges, adjudged a communist and ordered deported as an alien enemy of the government of this country, was saved by a decision of the Supreme court which ignored the evidence and followed politics.

Bridges is now conducting a blockade of the Hawaiian Islands through his longshoremen's union of the C.I.O. as thorough as the Russian blockade of Berlin. There was no need for Justice Frank Murphy to write a separate opinion concurring with the majority of the supreme court which spared Bridges to carry on this iron curtain operation along our weak coast, where Alaska is exposed to Russia and Pearl Harbor is a fortress of defense now shut off from the mainland.

But Murphy did and his language was so emotional that it makes disturbing reading in the present situation.

"The record in this case will stand forever as a monument of man's intolerance of man," Murphy wrote. It was actually a record of a pathetic attempt by a sovereign nation to rid itself of a man who had knowingly and defiantly consorted and cooperated with its enemies, the communists.

The defense admitted this and the majority of the court held that he had a right so to consort and cooperate. And the majority opinion, written by Justice Douglas, a political partisan of the C.I.O., finally decided the whole case on an arbitrary and ingenious but sophisticated interpretation of the word "affiliate."

"Seldom, if ever in the history of this nation," Murphy wrote, "has there been such a concerted and relentless crusade to deport an individual because he dared to exercise the freedom that belongs to him as a human being and that is guaranteed by the constitution."

Here Murphy condemns the prosecution of Bridges on the ground that it was conducted with efficiency and determination by officials charged with this duty and by private citizens with a patriotic duty to do so. And the statement that this "crusade" was made because Bridges "dared to exercise the freedom" and so forth is a deliberate lie because the reason for this crusade was the admitted evidence that Bridges was a communist.

That is, the court admitted that there was evidence but held that there was not enough. Where such evidence existed, it was the duty of the responsible officials to make the "crusade." And the constitution does not guarantee any person freedom to conspire or cooperate with enemies of the nation toward its destruction as Bridges was alleged to have done.

"For more than a decade," the separate opinion continues, "powerful economic and social forces have combined with public and private agencies to seek the deportation of Harry Bridges."

If he was guilty as the original inquiry and two federal courts and finally the attorney general found him to be, there was no legitimate objection to the fact that the economic and social forces were "powerful." It was well for the United States that they were not weak. Nor is there any wrong in the fact that public "agencies" charged with the duty of enforcing a law for the safety of the country "combined" with those forces to that end. Private "agencies" have an equal right so to "combine" and Murphy himself, as governor of Michigan, whether because he was a coward or a defaulter, had quailed in the threatening presence of the C.I.O., which was a private "agency" operating an army of goons in defiance of his authority and oath.

At one time he thought private agencies had a right to riot and sack. But when a man legally held to be an alien enemy came before him, Murphy rebuked the private agencies which had run him to earth.

Now new proceedings are afoot to reopen the deportation case. In time this case may come before Murphy. In that event Bridges would have at least one judge in his pocket, for Murphy in this hysterical composition has so far committed himself to Bridges' cause that he cannot recant without making a worse fool of himself than he did in this opinion, impossible though that may seem. Yet, if Bridges is a communist and is adjudged to be such in the new prosecution, that will mean that an agent of the Russian conspiracy has the power to blockade Pearl Harbor and the whole west coast and Alaska if Murphy's position is correct.

Asks Arrest Of Witness

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS)—The shadow of Japanese prison camp atrocities was cast over the Tokyo Rose treason trial today by an American in San Francisco to serve as a defense witness.

The trial was in adjournment and a demand for the arrest of a Japanese witness was the main subject of discussion.

Mark L. Streeter, 51, now an Idaho Falls, Idaho, grocer, asked the U. S. commissioner to arrest Shigetsugu Tsuneishi, 40, a former lieutenant colonel in the Japanese army. Tsuneishi was on the witness stand as the trial of Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino adjourned for the weekend yesterday in federal court at San Francisco.

Streeter, who was captured at Wake Island only a few weeks after Pearl Harbor, charged the Japanese officer was responsible for mistreatment of American allied prisoners at a camp outside of Tokyo.

Air Patrol to Stage Show Sunday

Compete At City Airport

Meet Scheduled For 1:30 P. M.

Mansfield's Civil Air Patrol Squadron commanded by Lt. Edmun G. Pankow, will stage its own air-meet tomorrow afternoon at Municipal airport for pilots from four area cities.

The Mansfielders, who have shown well in other meets in the area, will compete with pilots from Bucyrus, Galion, Mt. Vernon, and Ashland.

One of the feature attractions will be a parachute jump by Lt. George Geib. The jump is sponsored by Guy Topper, manager of the airport's Sky Club.

Spectators will see a formation of U. S. Air Force planes flying overhead, and aerial acrobatics will be performed by the pilots.

The Mansfielders will enter the following events in competition with CAP pilots from other cities; bomb dropping accuracy, spot landings, search mission, ribbon cutting, and message pick-up.

The ribbon-cutting event winner is the pilot who cuts the ribbon three times with his plane in the shortest time.

The Mansfield squadron captured most of the honors at last month's meet in Bucyrus. Four Mansfield pilots made a clean sweep against 70 pilots from Ashland, Bucyrus, Mt. Vernon, Galion, Marion, Youngstown, Barberton, Akron and Toledo. They were Pankow, Roland Briggs, Phillip Schwaner, and Geib.

The meet is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p. m. Persons who arrive by auto are asked to park their cars in the designated areas.

Refreshments will be sold. The proceeds from their sale will be used to send the Mansfield squadron's cadets to their summer encampment next month.

'Love-Nest' Defendant Under-Age

Charge Dropped Against Girl

Charges against Evelyn Sprague, one of the eight persons held for contributing to the delinquency of a 13-year-old girl in a "love nest" raided by police a week ago was dismissed yesterday when it was discovered that she too is a juvenile.

Miss Sprague originally gave her age as 18, but upon investigation by Assistant Prosecutor James J. Mayer found she will not be of age until July 31.

The 13-year-old Eighth avenue youngster who was arrested with the eight others in the apartment at 32½ West Fourth street was also released in "protective custody" until the hearing set for Friday.

All the others with the exception of Noble Keith Perry, 19, and Ralph Barto, 27, both of 32½ West Fourth street, are out on $500 bond.

They are Marilyn Jackson, 22, of 1016½ Park avenue west, Guy Long, jr., 25, of 32½ West Fourth street, John J. Weber 22, of 264 Park avenue east, and Elsie Ramona Groves, 20, Akron.

The hearing has been postponed until Friday so that the defendants' attorneys, Beam and Beam and George W. Biddle, may investigate the case further.

Ira Ling Dies At 70

Ira David Ling, 70, died early today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Frey, Springmill road, after an illness of several weeks.

He was born in Holmes county, near Millersburg, Oct. 27, 1878. He made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Frey. Mr. Ling was a retired filling station operator.

His wife, Dora Reimer Ling, died in 1941.

In addition to his daughter, he is survived by three sons, Raymond and Gerald of Mansfield; and Charles of Cleveland; two brothers, Jacob and Bert, both of Barberton; a sister, Mrs. Dan Guthrie of Wooster; and five grandchildren.

Rev. A. F. Lindbeck, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church, will conduct funeral services at the Jones Memorial at 11 a. m. Tuesday. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Four Seek Mifflin Township Offices

Four persons have filed petitions with the Richland county election board, for nomination for Mifflin township offices, Deputy Clerk Walter Underwood said today.

They are V. G. Dudley and C. C. Cole for Mifflin township trustee and Carleton M. Smith and Charles A. Stone for township school board.

Mothers Learn While Kiddies Swim

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Lemon custard pie fillings or the "dead man's float"—it all comes under the heading of recreation and good training every week-day morning at Liberty park.

Down at the pool, Junior and Susie take their Red Cross swimming lessons under the best instructors the city can offer.

Up in the pavilion, the mammas have a good time, too. Under the city recreation department, the mothers of the little swimmers are being taught crafts, good taste in clothing and cosmetics. Once in a while they get down to solid homemaker stuff and exchange their favorite recipes.

According to the swimming instructors, it's a "good deal." When Mother is kept busy with the other women, she isn't worrying about the water Junior is swallowing.

And the mothers agree, too. It gets them out of that hot kitchen in the morning.

Miss Maryellen Lantz, recreation department worker who's in charge of the mothers' class, says there's an enthusiastic attendance at the pavilion during each of the 8, 9, 10 and 11 a. m. classes.

First class was held Wednesday with the mothers getting acquainted over their mending or a hand of bridge. Thursday, there was a cosmetics demonstration and Friday the women exchanged recipes and started on crafts.

Miss Lantz said that from 10 to 20 mothers are enrolled in each of the four classes.

Next week, there's still more fun in store as both kiddies and mothers will continue their morning recreation.

Moving Vans Halt Traffic

SHELBY — Through traffic on Main street was re-routed yesterday while moving vans transferred three departments of the Shelby Mutual Casualty company to new quarters on South Broadway.

In an all-day operation, the accounting department, the miscellaneous liability and burglary departments and the workmen's compensation department moved into the building formerly occupied by the Ulmer Funiture company.

The space vacated by the three departments will be utilized for the expansion of the departments remaining at the home office.

The insurance company will hold open house Friday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Seeks To Cut Defense Cost

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Chairman Elmer Thomas, D., Okla., of the Senate military appropriations subcommittee today unveiled a plan to trim $1,800,000,000 from defense funds this year.

Thomas came up with his proposal after President Truman yesterday endorsed a $928,000,000 cut from the House-approved $16,000,000,000 military spending measure. If Congress would "go along," Thomas said, he could almost double that amount.

Both Mr. Truman and Thomas would save $800,000,000 allotted in the President's budget for universal military training, plus another $128,000,000 requested for military pay increases.

Raps Carson Appointment

BUCYRUS — Pearson L. Linn, who operates a 360-acre farm near here, appeared Thursday in Washington before the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Affairs committee to protest the pending appointment of John Carson, Co-operative League head, to the Federal Trade commission.

Linn, who has waged a long campaign against the co-operative movement, charged that Carson is a long-time associate of the Co-operative League of the USA, which he described as the American member of the International Co-operative Alliance.

According to Linn, the goal of the international organization is "an international co-operative commonwealth."

3 Burn To Death As Plane Crashes

PEORIA, Ill. —(INS)— Three men were burned to death today when a two-engine Lockheed transport plane crashed and caught fire near Roanoke, Ill.

The victims were C. H. Morse III, Jack Hadden of Chicago, pilot of the plane, and the copilot, whose name was not learned immediately.

The plane, flying from Chicago to St. Louis, was owned by the Fairbanks-Morse company. Morse was an official of the company.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The Ohio Air National Guard's 55th fighter wing will take part in field training maneuvers opening today and continuing until July 23.

Warned On Wheat Harvest

Recent rains in Richland county have boosted the moisture content of wheat, and if some of the grain is combined it may spoil, millers and Farm Bureau spokesmen warned today.

If grain tests over 14 per cent moisture, it should not be combined, millers said.

Before the heavy rain this week Richland county wheat was testing about 11 per cent, but the wheat absorbed moisture from the rain.

Tests are being made with equipment in the Farm Bureau offices in Mansfield, Shelby, Shiloh, Lexington, and Bellville. The service is free to all farmers.

Byrd Reports On Mounting Payroll

WASHINGTON — (NS) — Sen. Byrd (D) Va., reported to Congress today that latest available figures show the federal payroll to be climbing at the rate of better than 300 new employes each day.

Byrd, a constant critic of high government spending, cited statistics revealing that in May the total civilian employment of the executive branch of the government, inside the country and out, reached a 12-month peak of 2,120,000.

Using material gathered by the joint committee on cutting non-essential spending, Byrd said that this was a net increase of 9,490 over April and 20,303 over March.

Byrd added

"This net increase in civilian employment during the month of May averaged 306 a day. Average federal pay is approximately $3,000 a year. If those added to the federal payroll during the month of May represent a net permanent increase, it means annual federal personnel costs were increased during the month at the rate of $918,000 a day."

See Majority Backing Pact

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Senate Democratic leaders were confident today that the Atlantic pact would be ratified overwhelmingly, despite hints from Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., that he may oppose it.

Both Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas of Illinois and Chairman Tom Connally, D., Tex., of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said they had votes to spare in their fight for ratification of the treaty. Lucas predicted that only about eight senators would vote against it.

Connally conceded, however, that if Taft does come out in opposition to the pact, the administration would "lose a few votes" in the showdown roll-call on the issue.

Priest Claims Farm 'Spirit' Is Actually Guardian Angel

LIVELY GROVE, ILL. — (UP) — Mysterious "disturbances" at the home of farmer Tony Greten were described by a Roman Catholic priest today as the work of the "Guardian Angel" protecting Greten's son, Jerome.

The Rev. Edward Dahmus, theologian and parish priest at nearby St. Libory, said that from the evidence he has gathered, he believes the manifestations are caused by an "angelic spirit" assigned to guard 10-year-old Jerome from harm.

And from the cryptic messages written on paper in Jerome's room, Dahmus said he believes "that the angel at one time in his long existence probably had assumed a human form."

Dahmus said the last "spirit manifestation" at the Greten home took place last Sunday. Previously they had occurred 17 times, starting on May 1.

All the manifestations were witnessed by Greten, his wife, and at least eight of their 10 children, ranging in age from 10 to 26 years.

Dahmus said he was present a number of times when they occurred and neighbors in the little cross-roads community were present at others.

The office of Bishop Albert Zuroweste at Belleville, Ill., who assigned Dahmus to conduct an inquiry into the unusual occurrences said it would await a complete report before issuing any statement, if at all.

Navy Enlists 3 Area Men

The Navy recruiting station in Mansfield today announced the enlistment in the regular navy of three youths from the Mansfield area.

Francis V. Weaver of Bucyrus, and Clyde C. Bell of Shelby enlisted for three years. Everett R. Dysinger, of Galion, enlisted for one year under the Navy's one-year enlistment program for 18-year-olds. All three are assigned to San Diego for recruit training.

Weaver made a high score on the entrance examination and enlisted for the field of electronics upon completion of his recruit training. Bell will attend a Navy school for airmen after recruit training. Dysinger will be assigned to a ship or station for duty after completing his recruit training.

World Faith Units Hold Joint Session

Members of the Baha'i World Faith of Mansfield and Springfield township held a joint meeting at noon today at the home of Mrs. Henriette Corrodi, Park avenue west.

The meeting commemorated the execution of the Bab, one of the co-founders of the faith, in Tabriz in 1850. His execution led to the martyrdom of 20,000 of his Persian followers.

The program at today's meeting included a reading of an account of the events of July 9, 1850, and reciting the prayers which the Bab left.

About Women

TAKE CARE OF YOUR OWN HAIR IN THE SUMMER

CAREER GIRLS need no reminder of what a nuisance it is to keep a beauty parlor date when the thermometer is high and one might be off for a cooling swim instead. And housewives are equally aware that appointments always seem to come at inconvenient times. So begin your summer hair care program by deciding to attend to your own hair. With a bit of planning, you can keep your own hair looking its best with the least expenditure of time.

The new short coiffures are perfectly suited to outdoor summer life. Not only are short hair-dos easier to dress, but they stay "dressed" longer, thereby simplifying the home grooming program considerably. Decide first on the hair style which is most flattering to you—and then a home permanent to insure waves no matter how much your hair is exposed to sun, wind and water!

Clean hair and scalp, dandruff-free, is the basis of well-groomed hair, and your hair should be shampooed more often in summer than in winter for the simple reason that it is exposed to more dust, dirt and sand in the hot-weather months.

Salt water and salt air have a stimulating effect on the hair and the scalp just as they do on the rest of the body. But when they dry on the hair they leave it brittle, sticky and difficult to manage. Therefore, after a day on the beach, always rinse the hair thoroughly with fresh water. If it still tends to be dry, rub a little oil into the hair and scalp and then brush thoroughly.

Before every shampoo and as often in between as possible, give the scalp a brief, brisk massage, using the finger tips and working them over the entire head.

The cardinal rule for healthy, beautiful hair is the same as it was in grandmother's day—regular brushing. So resolve now to do those hundred strokes a day whether the weather be hot or cold! Coarse hair can be subdued and trained by regular brushing, and soft, fine hair, with the slight body given it by a Rayve home permanent, responds just as readily to the same grooming treatment. Brisk daily brushing will remove the day's accumulation of dust and lint, and will stimulate and nourish the scalp and distribute the hair's natural oil evenly over every strand of hair.

And it is just as easy to brush the hair correctly while you are at it. Best procedure is to brush at right angles to the line of the waves and brush vigorously, giving the brush a rotary motion with the wrist.

Advice to Perplexed Bridegroom: What to Wear On Honeymoon

Sartorial question number one for honeymoon-bound bridegrooms is what to wear where.

For a lively honeymoon, we suggest Mexico and similar areas. It recommends medium-weight sport jackets and slacks during the day, evening clothes, tropical worsted suits, a camels-hair topcoat for the cool evenings.

For that quiet honeymoon on an island like Bermuda, lightweight sports jackets and slacks, shorts and sport shirts are recommended. Also necessary are linen or seersucker suits for informal dining, golf jacket and slacks, tennis sweater and shorts, beach shirts and trunks and a dinner jacket for any formal occasion.

For a honeymoon which can be either quiet or lively or both, Esquire's Bridegroom recommends a cosmopolitan city like Paris in the Spring. For that trip, the groom should have a Summer-weight town suit, shoes, hat and accessories. Slacks, odd jackets and sports accessories are necessary for side trips. A black tie ensemble is recommended and rainwear is advisable.

For a Summer cruise in the Pacific or the Caribbean, the magazine suggests lightweight suits of Palm Beach, linen or seersucker, sports jackets and lightweight slacks, sports and lightweight T-shirts, beach sandals and robe. White jacket and dark trousers are for gala evenings.

If the Summer honeymoon takes the groom to a mountain area like Banff, Lake Louise or the Canadian Rockies, he'll need sports jackets, slacks, walking shoes and active sports clothes appropriate to riding, fishing, golf.

A beach resort like Cape Cod would require linen or flannel blazers, colored slacks, moccasins, two-tone sport shoes, beach trunks, terry robe, sandals, T-shirts and walking shorts.

Simple Lawn Parties Offer Good Training For Youngsters

Well - planned parties for the young fry are lots of fun. In addition, they are good experience, according to child training experts. The young child who learns how to entertain his little neighbors graciously will avoid much of the embarrassment which many teenagers experience, and will have more natural poise as a young adult.

Little girls of seven or eight years get tremendous pleasure from imitating their mothers' lawn parties. So let them. Help them plan and prepare simple refreshments. Let them do as much of the serving as possible—using small trays. Big trays often mean trouble for many grown-ups. Don't risk their use for the youngsters. Though spilling outside won't make much material difference, such accidents are embarrassing, and this you want to prevent.

Simple milk beverages are excellent for such parties. Two sweets—but neither one too sweet—are Jelly Confections and Peanut Butter Pinwheel Confections. Directions for both follow:

JELLY CONFECTIONS

Day-old bread
Sweetened Condensed Milk
Currant jelly
Chopped nut meats

Cut bread slices into small circle with biscuit cutter. Spread one side of each bread circle with condensed milk. Spread jelly on top of half the bread circles; top with bread rounds, condensed milk side down. Spread out side of bread circles with condensed milk covering well. Roll in finely chopped nut meats. Brown under broiler at low heat. Cool and serve.

PINWHEEL CONFECTIONS

Unsliced white bread
Peanut butter
Sweetened Condensed Milk
Moist, shredded coconut

Remove crust from loaf of bread. Cut the bread into thin slices, lenthwise of loaf. Spread each slice with peanut butter. Roll up each slice as you would a jelly roll. Press down seam side. Spread outside of roll with condensed milk. Roll in shredded coconut. Brown under broiler at low heat. Cool. Cut into slices and serve.

Lip Service

While it is no longer considered ladylike to wear dark - as - night smears for lipstick you still can get deep red glowing lipsticks that are beauty-wise and fashion right.

Spring costume colors such as taupe, beige, gray and navy, amber, copper and spice brown all can be flattered with a warm lipstick shade that borrows its color from the rose geranium or other spring flowers.

Color experts advise that a small cluster of rose geraniums, fresh or artifical, can dress up a simple navy dress or suit for spring in a jiffy. Also they suggest pinning the flowers to your large black summer straw cartwheel for an added fillip.

Here's Tasty Lunch

When you're faced with short-notice gala gathering by your teen-agers and their group, a simple yet satisfying party snack can be easily produced from ingredients already on hand. Grape Juice Ricky for the cooling drink with grapelade jelly roll and cookies for the accompanyment will more than fill the afternoon requirements.

GRAPE JUICE RICKY

1 quart GRAPE JUICE
½ Cup fresh lime or lemon juice
2 tablespoons powered sugar
1 large bottle of carbonated water
Ice

Chill Grape Juice in unopened bottle. Add sugar to lime or lemon juice, stir until dissolved. Add to Grape Juice. Just before serving pour fruit juices into a large pitcher or punch bowl. Now add chilled carbonated water. Add enough ice to chill. Stir only once. Makes about 8 cups before adding ice.

JELLY ROLL

4 eggs
¾ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon of salt
¾ cup of sugar
½ teaspoon of lemon rind
¾ cup of sifted flour
1 cup Grapelade.

Method:

Beat eggs, baking powder, salt in a bowl. Set this bowl over a smaller bowl of hot water. Beat until foamy. Gradually add sugar beating well after each addition until batter is light and fluffy. Remove from bowl containing hot water. Add lemon rind and fold in sifted flour. Grease a shallow jelly roll pan. Line with wax paper, grease again. Bake in a hot oven (400 degree) about 12 minutes. Turn out on a clean dish towel. Remove paper from cake. Cut off the crisp edges. Spread with 1 cup of Grapelade. Roll up. Wrap in towel.

COOKIES

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon of salt
1¾ cup of flour.

Method:

Cream shortening and sugar. Add beaten egg, vanilla, salt and flour. Chill for several hours. Roll on lightly floured board. Cut in fancy shape. Place on greased cooky sheet. Brush with egg white diluted with 1 tablespoon of water. Sprinkle with the following mixture; 3 tablespoons chopped nuts, 2 tablespoons granulated sugar, ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon. Bake about 10 minutes. (325 degree).

Good Coolers For Summer

Healthful drinks start to come into their own as Summer beckons. As the weather warms up, youngsters, old folks and invalids become increasingly difficult to feed, and where a certain nutritional intake must be observed it becomes a porblem difficult to solve. One way is through the medium of good, healthful, refreshing and tasty drinks made with eggs, milk or fruit juices.

Grapefruit Foam will add a nice note to a difficult breakfast table, and it is a good way of seeing that folks that refuse to tackle an egg, however nicely served, take their quota. For 2 servings (8-0z. glasses) beat 2 egg yolks until light and lemon colored. Add 2 c. grapefruit juice, and beat well. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff, then beat in 3 tbsp. light corn syrup. Mix with grapefruit juice mixture. Pour into tall glasses.

Delightful Egg Nog

Banana and pineapple get together for a delightful and different egg-nog that youngsters, and adults too, will adore. To prepare one large or 2 medium-sized drinks, slice a ripe banana into a bowl; beat with rotary egg beater or electric mixer until creamy. Or, if desired, press banana through a medium mesh wire strainer with a spoon. Add one c. cold milk, one egg and 2 tbsp. unsweetened pineapple juice. Mix thoroughly; serve cold.

A rich coffee-flavored egg flip will be appreciated by the convalescent who has to take plenty of nourishing food but who doesn't care to stuff. To prepare 4 portions (since we've discovered that one doesn't have to be an ivalid to enjoy this concoction) chill 2 c. double-strength, freshly-made coffee. Combine chilled coffee, 2 beaten eggs, few grains salt, sugar to taste, 2 c. milk, 2 tbsp. heavy cream. Shake well or beat with rotary beater until thoroughly blended.

Vacation Clothes Hints Listed

Planning a vacation wardrobe can often be time consuming and bothersome, but not when you consult the booklet published by the American Automobile Association, entitled "Wardrobe Hints —A Guide for Travelers."

The handy, 14-page booklet offers practical answers to many problems, including what to wear on Caribbean cruise, trips to Mexico, Bermuda, South America, Europe, Hawaii, Alaska, the Great Lakes, California and Florida.

Basic items for any travel wardrobe, according to the A.A.A. booklet, are "change of blouses, scarves and other accessories, plus simple, becoming hats and comfortable shoes." Generally, readers are told, women find a tailored suit — wool in winter, tropical weave in summer — practical for day time wear in any city in the world.

A capacious handbag, the larger the better, is advised to keep tickets, passports and papers in order, and to serve as a catch-all on shopping trips. A raincoat or water-repellant topcoat is listed as a "must."

Other essentials for travel comfort, the booklet declares, are bedroom slippers, sufficient pajamas or nightgowns, slips and underwear of fabrics that require little or no ironing.

Specific wardrobe suggestions for voyages to various parts of the world also are included, along with helpful hints on men's vacation attire.

The booklet is available at the offices of local A.A.A. clubs, or sending five cents, to cover postage and handling, to the International Travel Department, A.A.A., 25 Broad Street, New York 4, New York.

Use Hair Oil For Protection

On your two weeks with pay this summer, protect your hair as carefully as you do your skin.

In your beach kit, carry hair cream or brilliantine that comes in a tube, a jar, or a bottle. Before an afternoon of sunbathing and swimming, spread a trace of this oil between your palms, then over the surface of your hair. Soften the ends by pinching and rubbing them, and brush with long strokes to distribute the oil the length of each strand.

You'll find the oil penetrating, but not greasy. Under the sun, it acts as an invisible sun helmet. Under your bathing cap, it has some resistance to water, too, and your hair won't seem as wet after a swim.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

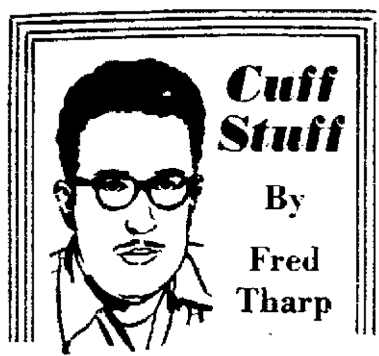
VFW Softball Teams Tie for American Loop Leadership

'Hot' Indians Hold Out to Beat Browns, 6 to 5



Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

THE ALL-AMERICA conference has picked up "most valuable players" for the 1948 season. . . . League coaches were unable to separate the pair, so trophies go to both . . . Otto Graham, Cleveland Browns, and Frankie Albert, San Francisco 49ers, are the players honored . . . Both are "T" quarterbacks . . . Approximately 400 players will be trying for berths on the seven AAC teams 1949 . . . Only 224 will make the squads . . . The Cleveland Browns will begin drills July 26 at Bowling Green State university with a roster of 52 players . . . Each team is permitted 32 on the game roster . . . Glenn Dobbs of the Los Angeles Dons last year booted 68 times for an average of 49.1 yards per kick, five yards a try further than his nearest competitor . . . Three blocked boots hurt his average.

★

MANSFIELDER Edgar Cobbett is a letterman on the St. Joseph's (Indiana) college football team which will play nine games this fall . . . The baseball Badgers from Wisconsin set a nuique record during the past season . . . The Badgers lost nine games by one run . . . Sport Scribe Stan Baumgartner says Eddie Waitkus is the finest fielding first sacker the Phils have had since 1915 . . . And Stan should know . . . . The former Chicago all-around athlete and major league pitcher has been watching the Philadelphia team for 34 years.

★

JOE DI MAGGIO is the veteran of the American league all-Star team. . .The Yankee Clipper has made the squad 10 times while Joe Gordon has been in eight contests . . . Lou Boudreau has been around seven times, Ted Williams, six: Vern Stephens, four and Tom Henrich and Birdie Tebbetts, three apiece . . . Southern Methodist and University of Oregon each got $108,909 for appearing in the 1949 Cotton Bowl game. . .Such events as boxing, wrestling, weight lifting and basketball may be shifted to the winter Olympics.

Mercer Warms Up With 69 Score

Twenty two out-of-town entrants in the Ohio Amateur tournament visited Westbrook Country club yesterday to test the course for next week's play.

The top practice score, however, went to a Westbrook regular, Bill Mercer, who fired a 33-36—69 to go three strokes under par figures. Bob Carpenter, the only other Westbrook tourney entrant who turned in a score, had a 73.

'B' Golf League Play Postponed

The opening of the second round of the City B league golf league was postponed a week last night after the league played a round of best-ball matches. Disagreement as to the rules of the best-ball play cause the postponement.

A blind bogey was held with league president Frank Vill, who shot a 39, winning three balls.

Ronnie Hunt Hurls 2-Hit Win, 2 To 0

The Veterans of Foreign Wars roared into a tie for first place in the American softball league last night by defeating Sons of Herman, 2-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Ronnie Hunt.

The victory gives VFW a 4-1 record, same as the crack Liederkranz club. Last night's play officially ended the first half schedule but both teams have one game left to play. The postponed tilts will be made up soon and if both win they will play off for the first half title.

The loss for Sons of Herman was its third and eliminated it from the first half race.

International league clubs started second half play last night with American Legion Post 16, Westinghouse Engineers and American Veterans committee coming out on the winning side.

Lee's Lunch replaced the Westinghouse Clerks in the league, but dropped its opener, 13-6, to Westinghouse Engineers. L. Wright of Lee's and Red Worthley of Westinghouse each hit home runs. Shadel of Lee's had two doubles and a single in three trips.

Veteran Aid Geiger, of the Legion, tossed a four-hitter at the Amvets to win a 4-2 decicion. He fanned six men and issued only one pass. Despite Geiger's good work, the game was tied until the top of the seventh inning when the Legion pushed over two runs to win.

Harner of AVC gave Tom's Restaurant only two hits in winning, 5-3. Home runs by Hammer and Herr provided a major part of the AVC attack.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press)

Batting and pitching—Vic Lombardi, Pirates, and Joe Page, Yankees. Lombardi pitched Pirates to 2-1 six-hit triumph over Chicago and singled home what proved to be winning run. Page yielded only one hit in four relief innings and singled home winning run in 12th inning in Yanks' 4-3 triumph over Washington.

BOONE SCORES—Shortstop Ray Boone of the Cleveland Indians slides into score in first inning of Indians-White Sox game at Chicago Thursday on Larry Doby's easy pop-up between Sox Pitcher Marino Pieretti and First Baseman Charley Kress. Catcher Joe Tipton makes futile attempt to tag the runner while Umpire Red Jones calls he play. Doby was credited with a base hit. (AP Photo).

Boswell Tops Blind Golfers In Tournament

By SAM GAMBURG

NORRISTOWN, Pa. — (INS) — One day of watching 18 "champions among champions" — 18 totally blind golfers — perform in the fifth annual national blind golf tourney was proved an impressive display of unique courage and determination.

Every time a sightless linksman whacks a drive 200 yards straight down the fairway or sinks a 25-foot putt, it was a "miracle in concentration." The blind golfers made shots that would do credit to Sammy Snead and Byron Nelson.

By nightfall, there probably will be a new national blind champion and he will likely be one of two men who became blind in World War II.

He will be either Chuck Boswell, Rose Bowl hero in 1937 when he was an all American halfback at Alabama, or Bill Gillman, former university of Maine track star who lost his sight fighting in Germany.

Boswell finished head of the field yesterday, by posting an amazing 108. Gillman, with 116, was his nearest competitor and trailed by eight strokes.

New London Nine Entertains Akron

NEW LONDON — The New London Merchants will tangle with the Naval Air station nine of Akron here Sunday night under the lights at Recreation park.

The two teams met last year with New London winning a 7-to-4 decision. Akron has won 20 of 40 games this season while New London has eight wins and two losses. The defeats were by Akron Borden Autos and the Shelby Blues.

Tossed Bat Gets Player Ejected

CHICAGO — (UP) — George Vico, Detroit Tigers' first baseman, today faced disciplinary action for hurling his bat into the box seats during a game here last night with the white sox.

Vico threw the bat, in what was described as a fit of temper, after he was called out on strikes by umpire Jim Boyer. It flew into the second row near the Detroit dugout, but injured no one.

Vico was ejected from the game immediately, and Paul Campbell took his place in the line up.

English Stars Tie For First In Golf Meet

BULLETIN

SANDWICH, Eng. — (INS) — Bobby Locke, of South Africa, shot a 67 today to take a seven stroke lead over Harry Bradshaw, of Ireland, on the first 18 holes of their 36-hole playoff for the British open golf championship.

★

SANDWICH, Eng.—(UP)—Pretourney favorite Bobby Locke of South Africa and Harry Bradshaw of Ireland, who won the medal, squared off today in a 36 hole playoff for the British open golf championship at the Royal St. Georges course.

Beknickered Bobby, a 7 to 2 choice from the start, almost didn't get the chance to meet the ruddy-faced Bradshaw five times Irish open champ. His first two rounds were wobbly, but he pulled his game together in the last two rounds yesterday to tie Bradshaw at 283 for 72 holes.

Locke and Bradshaw, deadlocked five strokes off the pace after two rounds, each carded sub-par scores of 68 and 70 yesterday to tie for first. Among the challengers they killed off were amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., who finished 13th with 290, and Johnny Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz., who was 27th with 299.

Stranahan, former British amateur champion, had the lowest score of any amateur competing, for the second time in three years.

Four Pitchers Show Stuff For Cleveland

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The Cleveland Indians, who seek their second straight victory over the St. Louis Browns today, are beginning to wonder whether they are fighting for a worthless cause.

Last night's 6-5 victory over the Brownies was the tribe's 21st victory in 29 games, but they have gained only one-half game on the New York Yankees with all those triumphs.

Bob Feller, who has a record of five victories and six defeats, was to be the pitcher today. He will be opposed by Ned Garver.

A rifle peg from short field by Bob Kennedy cut down the Browns tying run in the eighth inning last night and saved the victory for the tribe.

With the score 6-2 going into the eighth, the Browns opened an attack which nearly gave the tribesmen heart failure. Gerry Priddy opened the inning by drawing a walk off Gene Bearden, who relieved starter Early Wynn. Whitey Platt doubled to right sending Priddy to third. Jack Graham then slashed another two-baser to right, scoring both runners.

Al Benton then took over the tribe's pitching chores and walked Roy Sievers, filling the bases. Sherman Lollar hit into a double play but Les Moss drew a base on balls, filling the bases again. Ned Garver batted for Pitcher Tom Ferrick and singled to right, scoring Graham, but Sievers was thrown out at the plate by Kennedy when he attempted to score from second base.

DOBY HITS HOMER

Larry Doby accounted for the Indians' first two runs when he smashed his 13th home run of the season on top of the right field stand with Mickey Vernon on second base, in the first.

A triple by Kennedy and a St. Louis error accounted for the tribe's second run, and a double by Vernon and singles by Manager Lou Boudreau and Kennedy were good for two more tallies in the third frame.

A single by Joe Gordon, a walk to Doby and an error by Pitcher Bill Kennedy gave the tribe its final run.

Penn Auto Baseball Contest Postponed

The Penn Auto-Shelby Blues game scheduled for Shelby last night was postponed. No reason was given by the Shelby team which asked for the delay.

The Autos are to be host to the Creston Pirates at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow at Blue Goose field.

2 Clean Mat Stars Battle In Top Bout

Tonight's top wrestling engagement in the Ashland road armory may be the harbinger of something new for followers of the grunt and groan racket in Mansfield.

For the first time since Clete Kauffman has been promoting shows in Mansfield, both participants in the main event believe in the scientific style of mat work. Always before the top bouts have pitted a "villain" against a "clean" performer.

Don Eagle, the agile full-blooded Indian, meets speedy Angelo Martinelli in the one-hour finale. They will battle two of three falls.

The rest of the card shapes up with a tag team affair and two 30-minute bouts. Just who will wrestle who is problematical. Kauffman has booked Ronnie Etchison, Jack Vansky, Green Hornet and Waldek Kawalski for the prelims.

They will be paired for the 30-minute goes and the winner of each of the short bouts will be permitted to pick a partner for the tag team affair. The tag bout will be two of three falls with a one-hour limit.

Hornet and Kawalski are making their first Mansfield appearances. Action will begin at 8:30 p. m.

Gets 10 Days

NEW YORK — (UP) — Organized baseball, facing a $2,500,000 damages suit brought by St. Louis Cardinal pitchers Max Lanier and Fred Martin, was given 10 days to file an answer today by federal district court judge Simon H. Rifkind.

Joe Page Pitches and Hits Yanks to 4-3 Win

By JOHN BARRINGTON

NEW YORK — (INS) — When Major league managers of the future suggest that a recalcitrant player turn over a new leaf, they probably will point as a prize example to Joe — no pun intended — Page.

For if ever a player put his past behind him and made a fresh start, it is the big southpaw relief artist for the New York Yankees.

A hero in the Yanks' 1947 pennant drive, a bust last year, Page has been a prime factor in keeping the Yankees at the head of the American league class this semester.

Last night, in his 27th relief role of the season, Page not only pitched four shutout innings against Washington in relief but also drove in the winning tally in a 4-to-3 victory at Yankee stadium.

Page's single with one out and two on sent Billy Johnson home with the run that beat Mickey Harris and gave Joe his seventh triumph. Joe DiMaggio had tied it up in the ninth with a single that brought Skeeter Rizzuto in from second.

Long and grueling as the Yankee game was, it was topped from the Marathon aspect by the Boston Braves' 4-to-3 decision in 16 innings at Philadelphia.

The Phillies tied that one in the sixth and again in the 11th, coming back after a two-run homer by Bob Elliott.

The victory was costly for the Braves. Alvin Dark, their sparkling shortstop, was banged in the back of the head with a thrown ball in the 12th and rushed to a hospital. He later regained consciousness but was held for observation.

Brooklyn edged the New York Giants, 4 to 3, with Pee Wee Reese's sixth inning triple knocking in the winning run. Rex Barney was credited with his fourth victory in a relief role, although he himself needed help from Erv Palica.

St. Louis walloped Cincinnati, 6 to 1, spoiling Ewell Blackwell's first start of the season with an 11-hit attack. The stringbean righthander, however, seems sufficiently recovered from his pre-season kidney operation to take his regular turn.

Howie Pollet won his 11th game against five losses with the aid of a two-run homer by catcher Joe Garagiola.

Vic Lombardi pitched a six-hitter and singled in the winning run as Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs, 2 to 1, before 36,336 fans, the third largest crowd of the season at Forbes field. Ancient Dutch Leonard also allowed only six hits but wound up with his 11th defeat of the year.

The Boston Red Sox smacked seven runs off Dick Fowler in the third and fourth innings and went on to win, 7 to 1. Joe Dobson twirled his sixth win, and Vern Stephens took the American league home run lead with his 20th circuit clout.

Cleveland had a bad scare in the late innings when the St. Louis Browns overcame all but one run of what was once a 6-0 lead. Early Wynn got credit for the 6-5 victory.

Chicago bested Detroit, 3 to 1, with Bob Swift's homerun the only tally off Billy Pierce, who pitched a five-hitter.

Rev. Hagelbarger to Talk At Second Service In South Park

Christian Church Choir to Sing

Program Will Open Sunday At 7:30 P. M.

By EILEEN DEWHURST

Mansfielders who dread dressing up and sitting in warm churches for evening services are invited to get their religion out-of-doors again this week

The second in a series of outdoor vesper services will be held at South park at 7:30 p m. tomorrow.

Rev Ben F Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, will substitute for Dr W M Taylor, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church who originally was scheduled to have charge of this week's union service

Rev David N Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and chairman of the committee who make arrangements for the services, said the minister assigned to each outdoor service was responsible for that service but could exchange evenings with some other minister if he wished

Rev Hagelbarger will use as his sermon subject, "Finding Our Best Selves" The choir of the First Christian church will sing "He Smiles on Me," by O'Hara, and there will be a solo. "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes," by Stoughton

Last week more than 100 Mansfielders attended this year's first service despite the intense heat and the competition of numerous holiday activities.

Average attendance at last year's services was between 400 and 500 and a total of more than 4 000 attended during the summer

Rev Samuel U J Peard, rector of the Grace Episcopal church opened the fifth annual series of outdoor services last week.

The services. sponsored by the Mansfield Ministerial association, are being held for nine consecutive Sundays at South park. Mansfield ministers are taking turns giving sermons, with the final service a special one for young people in charge of the Hi-Y clubs of the YMCA.

Rev A J Payne, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church is scheduled to speak at the third evening service, July 17

Bucyrus Is Host To Pentecostals

BUCYRUS — Two hundred delegates from 16 Pentecostal churches in central and northwestern Ohio are expected here tonight to select Presbyters for the Ohio section of the Great Lakes District of the church

The services will be held at the Blaine Memorial Lighthouse here with Rev Paris Patrick of Findlay, district superintendent in charge Rev Robert Dooley of Toledo as special speaker

Music will be furnished by the Revs Morene Hollomon and Evelyn Devine both of Findlay

Present Presbyters are Rev Otto Webb of Lima and Rev James Martin of Fremont.

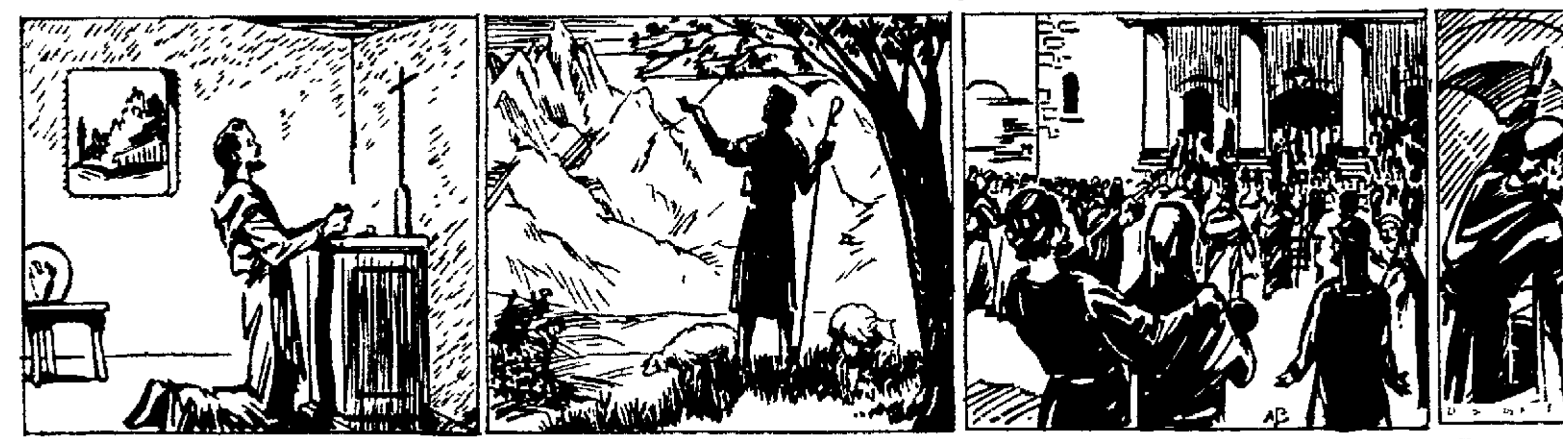
Songs Sung by Marching Pilgrims ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Psalms 120-134.



In my distress I cried unto the Lord, and He heard me Deliver my soul, O Lord from lying lips and from a deceitful tongue

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help My help cometh from the Lord which made heaven and earth

I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord Because of the house of the Lord our God, I will seek thy good

Bless ye the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord which by night stand in the house of the Lord

MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 136 1.

Heat Hits Churches

Programs Cut During Summer

Hot weather and summer vacations are taking their toll of church activities this month and religious programs are expected to be further curtailed in August

With many Mansfielders leaving the city for at least a week or two for summer vacations, some churches have inaugurated summer schedules which eliminate some of their activities

Members of congregations are not the only ones leaving the city for holidays Most pastors are more than ready for a few days' rest after their busy winter schedules and many are taking their vacations this month or will do so next month

Summer also is the time for church and religious conferences and many pastors must be out of the city briefly to represent their churches at the meetings

Many churches will hold no evening services during the summer months since the outdoor union services are being held for all denominations

At other churches youth groups have discontinued their meetings for the summer with the exception of an occasional picnic

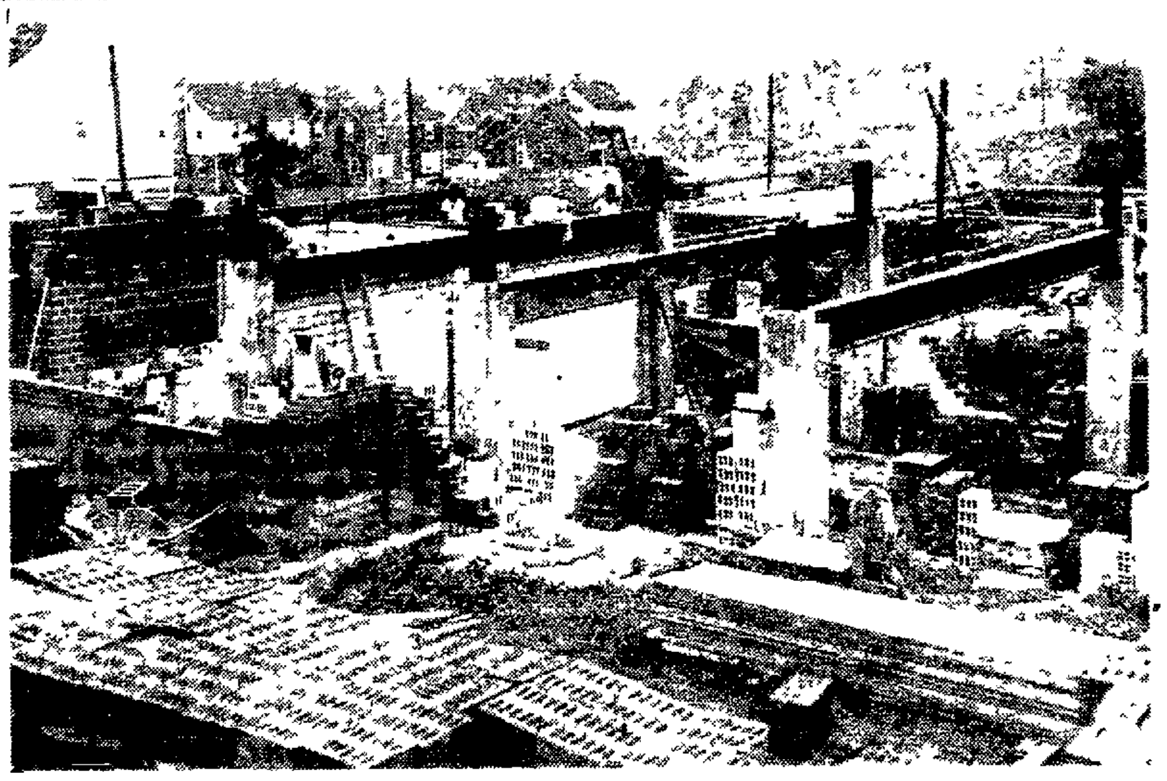
A summer schedule has been put into effect at the First Christain church with a combined worship service beginning at 9 30 a m each Sunday The pastor's sermon comes first, followed by the church Bible school

A special summer schedule now is being worked out for the church school of the First Presbyterian church to enable the school to remain open throughout the summer Each department will work out its own schedule to permit all church school teachers time for a vacation

Millersburg Church Picnic Set Sunday

MILLERSBURG—The Youth Fellowship group of the St John's United Church of Christ will have a picnic Sunday evening at the State park near Loudonville Each member is asked to bring a guest and prepare additional food and table service

The group will meet at 3 o'clock in front of the Millersburg court house and go in a group Clarence Ittner and Arlee Ray Rodhe has charge of recreation



GOING UP—A construction crew works busily on the first two units of the new First Congregational church Marion avenue and Millsboro road, as work on the new building progresses When ground was broken the latter part of April for the sanctuary and religious education building the contractor estimated work would take 18 months However, the project is slightly ahead of schedule and the congregation hopes to move into the new church by September, 1950 When the brick structure of colonial architecture is finished the congregation again will have a church home after seven years of worship in other churches Their former church burned in 1942

Mayor At Conference

Mayor Roy W Vaughn is attending a meeting of the Ohio Association of Municipalities today at Toledo

Complete Log Cabin Project, For Lakeside Youth Center

With the completion of the last of 10 log cabins five double units at Lakeside the long-cherished dream of a youth center at the religious resort finally is becoming a reality

Lakeside annually is the site of church conferences and meetings of religious adults' and young peopel's groups from all over the state. Already this summer a number of representatives of Mansfield churches have attended meetings and conferences at Lakeside and more are scheduled to go later in the season.

The newly-completed units will house 100 young people and their counselors Each unit is equipped with electric lights hot and cold running water lavatories toilets and showers The cabins have double deck bunks tables, chairs and clothes closets

One double unit was completed prior to the opening of the 1948 season the others were built during the past year

Funds for the building project which cost $25 000 were raised during the past year in a fund known as "Lakeside's Diamond Jubilee Fund"

Each summer more than 3-500 young people attend conferences and conventions at Lakeside where they receive religious trainning and leadership training for work in their home churches and communities.

Dr Homer W Courtney general manager of the Lakeside association, said the ultimate goal is 30 cabins sufficient to house 300 young people

Hear Recording Of Pastor's Talk

A wire recording of a temperance message will be played at a meeting at the United Presbyterian church at 7 45 p m Monday The meeting is open to the public

The recorded message is one which was given by Rev Jack Schuler during the series of evangelistic meetings held at Johnny Appleseed auditorium this year

Cold War Old Story to Iran As It Beats Off Red Inroads

TEHRAN —(UP)— The cold war is an old story to Iran which is potentially the richest country in the Middle East and has a 1,500-mile frontier with Russia

Bridgehead to the Persian Gulf and Suez Canal, entrance to the Indian Ocean, crossroads of ancient Orient trade routes, Iran has faced repeated threats of invasion throughout its 6,000-year history

In a world divided into Atlantic and Soviet spheres of influence, Iran today is facing west, but maintaining its independence with stubborn courage.

Iran is the only country in the world which Soviet forces have occupied and later left without installing a permanent puppet governemnt That was accomplished by Persian political skill and the moral pressure of the United Nations But it is a source of more worry here than consolation

One top Iranian official described its foreign situation as follows

"American policy in the Middle East is our greatest concern"

"The Americans have reinforced the dam halfway across the river Greece and Turkey have been secured by U S military aid This means increased pressure on the side of the dam which has not been reinforced—Iran"

Yet treading its almost independent path between the two spheres Iran has never made an official request for American military guarantees T' government has hired and paid cash for a small U S military mission to train its troops and gendarmerie, and obtained surplus material on credit That token training, however, has increased the nominal threat of Russian invasion and occupation

Iran has long been harassed by the hot and cold wars of successive Russian governments After the Bolsheviks came to power, they signed a treaty of friendship with Iran, promising to end forever the imperialist aggression of the czars.

But the treaty of 1921 contained a trick clause

It provided that the Soviet governemnt "shall have the right to take its troops into Persian territory in order to take necessary military measures in the interests of self defense" should a White Russian counter-revolutionary assemble on Iranian soil.

The threat which Lenin's government feared disappeared before the decade was out but Soviet Russia has found the clause a useful expedient for policy objectives ever since.
